Voters To Be Asked To Decide In Referendum Method By Which High School To Be Financed

Literary Fund Loan Or Bond Issue to Be Put Before Public

The Virginia Beach School Board will present a petition to the Town Council at its regular meeting July 11 asking for a referendum of the voters as to whether or not they wish to take advantage of the $700,000 Literary Fund Loan to build a high school at the Beach.

At a joint session of the council and the school board last Monday evening, councilmen declared that they did not believe that the referendum would delay the construction of the school, and that the majority of the voters favored the junior and senior high school planned. However, according to W. W. McClannan, Jr., who is chairman of the council's school committee, it is only fair to the voters to put the decision up to them.

The move will necessitate an increase in real estate taxes, Mr. McClannan declared, but added that here too he believed that the town's voters will be favorable.

The State has already made the $700,000 available for school construction at Virginia Beach. This figure includes the school plant, but not the equipment that will be needed. Interest rate on Literary Fund loans to towns of certain size and more is set at 3 per cent. Frank W. Cox, superintendent of Princess Anne County Schools, pointed out at the meeting that this is a trifle higher than that levied on the last bond issue sold by the county. The amount then was $425,000, sold at an interest rate of 2.75 per cent.

Harrell's Pharmacy To Open New Store At Mayflower Apts.

Harrell's Pharmacy is opening up its second store at Virginia Beach by the new Mayflower Apartments Building on Saturday, July 8.

Like its sister store, Harrell's at 19th and Atlantic in the Jefferson Hotel Building, the new store will feature nationally advertised cosmetics, a complete prescription department and luncheonette service.

Applegate Stables Top Winners In Inaugural Races

Despite some handicaps, the Princess Anne Raceway's first harness horse racing program last Tuesday night went off successfully and gave indication that there will be many more to come.

More than 1,000 spectators were on hand to see the Raceway's inaugural races from which the horses from L. M. Applegate's stables were top money winners.

Mr. and Mrs. Applegate's Sally Dewey took second in both the first and third heats, Dottie's Cardinal won second and third respectively in the fifth and seventh races and Popular Guy took second and fifth in the sixth and eighth races.

The records established Tuesday night were by Louise McElwain for trotters with a time of 2:15, and for the pace, Sybil The Great went the distance in 2:06. Louise McElwain is owned by C. M. Tatum and Symbol The Great is owned by A. L. Dixon.

The chief handicap the directors of the track had was the lack of power in the lights around the track and in the public address system. However, these conditions have since been improved.

The Raceway plans to have races every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday throughout the Summer with post time at 8:15.

Theatre-Go-Round Now Presenting "Anna Lucasta"

Experienced Cast Brings Broadway Play to Beach

Last night, under the blue and yellow tent called Theatre-Go-Round, located at 31st Street and Atlantic, the famous Broadway play, "Anna Lucasta," was given for the first time at Virginia Beach. It was presented by Robert O'Flaherty and his wife and co-producer, Lesley Savage, as the second offering of this season by the newly-formed arena-style theatre company, which will bring to the Beach this summer a Broadway play each week for a season of ten weeks.

Philip Yordan's great play about a bad girl who finds with redemption ran for three years in New York, establishing for itself one of the longest runs in the history of the New York legitimate theatre. It was later made into a movie starring Paulette Goddard, and has enjoyed tremendous popularity around the world wherever it has been presented and in whatever language. It was chosen as one of the ten best plays of the 1944-45 season by Burns Mantle. It has been hailed by critics everywhere as a rugged and powerful drama, both humorous and heart-warming, and as one of the finest plays yet to be produced in the American theatre.

The story tells of a Polish family in a Pennsylvania industrial town, the coarser-grained members of which scheme to get hold of the money of a young lad being sent up North from a farm in Alabama for a wife, because poverty and illiteracy in his home section have reduced the number of desirable young women to zero. The only unmarried girl in the Lucasta family has been driven from her home by her father, and has taken up the life of a cheap street-walker on the Brooklyn waterfront. The girl is induced to return home, where at first she falls in with the plan to marry the boy. But the lad is a personable and brilliant agricultural school graduate, and he and Anna fall in love at first sight. However, Anna's hopes for a new, fresh and happy life with her lover are not in key with her shabby past, and the ensuing complications are gripping and unusual.

In the role of Anna Lucasta is young and attractive Marianne Duce. Her lover is played by Mr. O'Flaherty, her father by Jon Dawson, who is also director of the play, and her mother by Rita Martens. Lesley Savage appears this week in the part of Stella Anna's sister. Others in the cast include Romeo Muller, who, after last week's triumph in the part of the thick-headed Blitshire, "Clutterbuck," will be seen as the tough and belligerent husband of Stella. Also from the cast of last week's "Clutterbuck" are Joe Bush and Robert Phillippe. Being seen for the first time this week on Theatre-Go-Round's stage are Paulette Sam March, Thelma Gaitlin, Billy Clarke, Charles Cals, and Richard A. Rothrock.

"Anna Lucasta" will continue at Theatre-Go-Round every night through Tuesday of next week. There will be no performance on Wednesday, and next Thursday will see the opening of the much-anticipated "Harvey." Curtain time each night is 8:40.

"Charlie Noble" is the slang name for the galley smokestack on a Navy ship. The term is said to derive from a skipper named Charles Noble who insisted the stack be kept brightly polished.

Alice Brewer White Attending N. Y. Fashion Preview

She Will Present Fashion Show At P. A. County Fair

Alice Brewer White, fashion and women's director of WTAR and WYAR-TV, left for New York City last night to attend the 15th National New York Dress Institute Fashion Press Week activities, which will include viewing over forty fashion showings of the 1950-51 Fall and Winter fashion collections by New York designers.

Her daily "Woman's World" program will continue transcribed with four of these programs presented, by direct wire, from Radio City's NBC studios. The first direct-wire show will be next Wednesday, July 12, at 9 a.m., when Eleanor Lambert, famous fashion authority, will present her "Watch for Roundup" of the important new-fashion trends.

Princess Anne County women will be doubly interested in Miss Lambert's comments since Mrs. White is fashion director for the Princess Anne County Fair, which will be sponsored by the Princess Anne County Woman's Club and the Princess Anne Rural Club. Mrs. White plans to bring to Virginia Beach a special showing of New York designers' collections for the last day of the Fair, Sunday, September 10.

There will be many other fashion presentations at the Fair including the Home Demonstration and 4-H girls fashioning, the Girl Scout hat design showing, the Lady God's Fashions of Princess Anne County show, and tons and tons will also present local fashions. Local shops will be invited to show their smartest Fall and Winter clothes at a Virginia Beach Fashion Night. Even the men are to have a part in Mrs. White's fashion presentations with members of various clubs competing in a fashion "whipping up" contest that should end all fashion competitions!

A preview of fashions will be telecast on the "Girl About Our Town" WTAR-TV show July 10 at 5:45 and July 13 at 6:30 with Miss Betty Lühring, Mrs. Luther B. Marshall, Jr., and Blair E. Banks pinch-hitting as host and hostesses.

Mosquito Control for Beach First Suggested By Mayor Holland

(Reprinted from The "Skeeter," official organ of the Virginia Mosquito Control Association, for May, 1950)

We are apt to ascribe the beginning of mosquito control to one of our sister states with the idea that many of our present methods were brought from there. However, the following letter written in 1906, recommending the problem at Virginia Beach and recommending methods for its abatement, might well serve as a model to be followed wherever similar conditions are to be found today, forty-four years later.

Virginia may well be proud of the vision and foresight of Mr. B. P. Holland whose son, Walter C. P. Holland, now secretary and treasurer of the Virginia Beach Mosquito Control Commission. Mr. Holland's letter follows:

To the Town Council of the Town of Virginia Beach, Virginia: Gentlemen of the Council: In making my first communication to the first council of the town, I feel it incumbent upon me to set forth what appears to me to be the most pressing matter to receive your attention. The sanitary conditions are of the first importance, and I consider Lake

JANE MCCLURE — Miss McClure will play the feminine lead in "See How They Run," opening play at Ye Beare and Ye Cubb Theatre, 17th and Atlantic. The play opens July 26.

Mills Promoted By State Highway Department

J. P. Mills, Jr., a long-time resident of Lynnhaven and a graduate of Oceana High School, has been appointed assistant traffic and planning engineer for the State Highway Department.

Since 1943, he has been associate traffic engineer for the department, devoting a large part of his time to supervising the department's truck weighing and traffic count operations.

The 39-year-old graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute came with the department as chief of a survey party in 1936. He was a statistician with the traffic and planning division from 1939 to 1943. He is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers and the Institute of Traffic Engineers.

In his new post, he will assist Kenneth G. McWane in the coordination of the traffic and planning division's many activities, including parking surveys, traffic studies preparatory to highway construction, urban traffic studies and the preparation of Virginia's official highway map.

Jaycees To Meet Tuesday Night

The Virginia Beach-Princess Anne County Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its regular business meeting on Tuesday, July 11, at the Whitehurst packing shed at Oceana.

The main topic for discussion will be completion of work on the bench project.

Grand Jury Expected To Report Findings In Investigation of Lawlessness To Court Saturday

Ye Beare and Ye Cubb Leases the Roland Theatre

"See How They Run" To Be Presented Beginning July 26

The Roland Theatre, located on 17th Street, has been leased by "Ye Beare and Ye Cubb" from its owner, Dr. Edward Myers, and will be known in the future as Ye Beare and Ye Cubb Theatre.

The group, which was started a year ago this month on the Eastern Shore of Virginia, will open in their newly renovated theatre on Wednesday, July 26, with the farce comedy, "See How They Run," beginning a six-week season.

Ye Beare and Ye Cubb will be under the joint management of Paul Stocumb, Leesa Thackston, Maury Oren and Miriam Thackston.

They plan to keep the theatre open the year round. Following the closing of their last summer play, "There's Always Juliet," the group will make the theatre their headquarters for their touring company which will travel throughout Southeastern United States, beginning on or about October 1.

The theatre will be used as a rehearsal hall for the road company shows. These shows will be previewed in the theatre prior to their bookings. In addition, the management plans to bring other touring companies to the Beach periodically throughout the winter season, such as the Margaret Webster Shakespeare Children's and the Barter Players. Children's theatre will be presented in matinee performances of Margaret Little's Puckit Players and Clare Tree Major's Children's Theatre of New York.

During such times when the theatre is not being used for rehearsals or productions by Ye Beare and Ye Cubb, it will also be available to local groups at a nominal rental fee who desire the use of an auditorium.

The theatre is now under extensive alterations in order to accommodate theatrical productions. The stage is being enlarged to almost twice its size. New seats are being installed, in addition to a new grand curtain and complete air conditioning equipment for the comfort of summer audiences. The exterior is now undergoing a new paint job, and the lobbies and the auditorium are being redecorated to facilitate a series of exhibitions by local artists.

Phil Chamberlin, professional New York scenic designer, is in charge of interior decorations and will also design and construct Ye Beare and Ye Cubb's stage settings.

Miss Shirley Powell, of Norfolk and Virginia Beach, has been appointed advertising and promotion manager for Ye Beare and Ye Cubb.

Pungo Ferry Service Extended Hour

The State Highway Department has announced a one-hour summer extension of its ferry service across North Landing River at Pungo. The ferry will operate between 6:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. through October 1, the department said. Normally, service is suspended at 5:30 p.m.

The free ferry operates as a shuttle run back Bay in southern Princess Anne County.

J. M. Hagan, State Highway Department Suffolk district engineer, said the extended summer service was requested by a number of residents of the area.

29 Witnesses Heard At End of Session Held Thursday

After hearing six witnesses in yesterday afternoon's session, the special Grand Jury, investigating reports of wide open gambling and illegal sales of whiskey, adjourned until 9 a.m. Saturday morning.

Foreman Eldridge Whitehurst said that no further witnesses would be heard on Saturday. At that time, the jury's report is expected to be presented to the court.

At yesterday's hearing, Police Chief Reeves E. Johnson and John R. Fitzgerald, manager of the Laundrette and the Clitquot Club Bottling Works, both appeared for the second time before the Grand Jury. In addition, J. Raymond Pritchard, Jr., vice president of the Norfolk Southern Railway, J. Raymond Pritchard, Jr., executive assistant in a lumber company, Major Robert Flaherty, USMC, Naval Air Station, Mrs. Jack O. Smith, Norfolk, and Joseph Cotten, office equipment and supplies, were also called.

None of the witnesses remained in the jury room more than 15 minutes with the exception of Chief Johnson.

Yesterday was the fourth session of the Grand Jury, which was called June 27. A total of 28 witnesses have appeared before them.

YWCA Conducting Camp for Girls

The Norfolk Y. W. C. A. is conducting a camp for girls located at Lynnhaven Inlet. The first period opened June 26, with three other camp periods still open for registration.

The camp takes girls from 9 to 18 years of age; the fourth period, which begins August 7 and extends to August 20, takes girls from 7 to 18 years of age.

Directors are Miss Pauline E. Avery, from June 28 to July 23; and Mrs. June Athey Anderson, July 24 to August 20.

Stock Car Races At Beach Speedway Furnish Thrills

Promoter Jack Thornton plans another afternoon of stock and novelty car racing next Sunday afternoon at the Virginia Beach Speedway.

In addition to his regular program of straight and modified stock car racing, Thornton plans a race for Model T Fords, a sportsmen race with convertibles and a special match race for women.

A straight stock car will be given away to one of the spectators. Approximately six or eight convertibles will be in the sportsmen's race.

Last Sunday Thornton staged one of the most exciting programs ever presented in the Princess Anne area. The show was highlighted by several spills on the track—no one was injured—and about 40 cars completed.

Buzz Barnett won the 25 lap feature event for the second week although Rudy Hires gave him a run for his money all the way. The race had to be re-started as a three-car collision between Blackie Sims, E. H. Hill and Frank Green occurred after the first lap.

Don Crouch won the first 10 lap event for straight stocks and Hill won the second; Barnett won the event for modified stocks; Cullen Haddock took the consolation race and Mrs. Cullen Haddock won the special match race for women.

THE GRAND JURY INVESTIGATION

The current investigation by a special Grand Jury of alleged gambling, illegal sales of whiskey, and other lawlessness in Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County finds the complacency of the citizens and the brazenness of the operators of the other-side-of-the-law establishments working overtime.

Since they had existed unmolested for so long, it is understandable that the operators of these nip joints, gambling rooms, and bookie shops wanted to make a little hay while the sun shone—that is, over the long Fourth of July holiday.

Nevertheless, it is surprising that so many were wide open in spite of the Grand Jury hearings. Although we pass on second-hand information at this point, since our sources have become nearly as unwelcome in the joints as we, it is from reliable witnesses that we report that one of the large supper clubs was playing to a full house, with the gambling doors wide open; that, even though one of the alleged bookie establishments had installed a ping-pong table to further their claim to being a "sports club," the proprietors were said to be still not averse to taking a bet; that another place on 17th Street was doing a thriving business in packaged bottle goods, and we don't mean Coca-Colas. And so it goes—

The Results

We have great hopes for the results of the Grand Jury's deliberations.

Not all of the evidence is yet in, and few of the citizens of the community have voluntarily come forward to give evidence that will clean up what is at best an extremely unwholesome situation.

However, there has been a parade of testimony that should accomplish something in proving to the Grand Jury that the Town and County are not innocent of the charges leveled; that in reality there does exist the whole gamut of lawlessness which results where law is ignored.

Because of the ramifications of connivance, whether due to deliberate turning of backs or actual involvement, evidence to convict some of the places will be most difficult to procure; on the other hand, the more flagrant violators have played into the hands of law enforcement by their very brazenness of their activities.

We are proud to have been able to appear before the Grand Jury and to give them what evidence we have been able to gather. The gentlemen of the Grand Jury realize that it is in the line of their duty to follow the leads thus given, to ferret out, no matter how long it takes, the true meaning of the evidence given them. They realize, too, that it is not the province of the individual citizen appearing before them to give them absolute proof based on individual investigative procedure—to give them time and date of violations.

For information (which should have led to an investigation in the Town and County, had not Judge Kellam called the Grand Jury) the court records of recent cases brought up before the Circuit Court, or pending hearing, have only to be perused. There one will find substantial proof that all of the allegations are true.

The Piney Point robbery, the slaying at Ciro's, the murder at the Checkerboard for which Alex Tolakis was tried and freed, a suit brought against the alleged operators of the 227 Club of Virginia Beach to recover gambling losses, the raids and fines levied in the March raids on the Club 58, Woody's, Dees, and others, and testimony in other cases in which the names of the clubs appear time and time again, all of these point definitely that the conditions alleged do exist.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH

The four days of the Fourth of July holidays took on a rosy glow for all of the merchants, restaurateurs, and hotel operators at Virginia Beach this year. Not only was the weather superb, but all of the elements which go into making a grand and glorious Fourth seemed to conspire for the good of the people of Virginia Beach.

The traffic was heavy, but there was no serious traffic accident; the buses were crowded to capacity, but, exerting a superhuman effort, handled the crowds with alacrity; there were hundreds and hundreds of youngsters filled to overflowing with the exuberance of youth, but no undue rowdiness; there were thousands of children, but not one was lost or strayed; the waters of the Atlantic, turning in a perfect performance for good swimming conditions, claimed not one life. It was a wonderful Fourth.

LOOKING BACK

TWENTY-THREE YEARS AGO — JULY 8, 1927

"It was the greatest, grandest and most glorious Fourth of July in the history of Virginia Beach," reported the Virginia Beach Weekly for July 8, 1927. "Under the blue canopy of a clear sky with old Sol brightly shining but with rays that could not penetrate too deep on account of the cool north-east breeze that prevailed throughout the day, the crowds flocked here from all parts of the East and many from the West to appreciate a total of 50,000 people or more. According to State Motor Vehicle Commissioner J. M. Hayes, who was here for the Fourth, between 15,000 and 20,000 automobiles were at Virginia Beach that day."

Large, Cox Attending Reserve Officers Corps Summer Camp

Two college students from Princess Anne County are among 1,300 officer candidates attending the six-week Reserve Officers Training Corps summer camp at Fort Meade, Md. They are Paul M. Large, Route 2, student at V. P. L. and Frank W. Cox, Oceana, student at V. M. I.

Training will include instruction in many phases of infantry and anti-aircraft tactics, map and aerial photograph reading, motor maintenance, field training, and general combat techniques. Firing courses are being conducted at the A. P. Hill Military Reservation and at Bethany Beach, Del.

Athletic and social activities will be provided for ROTC students in an extensive recreation program. They will visit the Gettysburg National Military Park, the United States Naval Academy, and various beaches in the vicinity of the post on conducted tours.

Ruth Kitchin, 15-year-old swimmer from Baltimore, failed in her attempt to swim from Cape Charles to Cape Henry. She had made 20 miles and was past Cape Henry and being carried on toward Virginia Beach by a swift ebb tide, when her father decided she should give up.

It was announced that because of lack of necessary funds, efforts towards the eradication of mosquitoes would have to be postponed.

In the personal columns it was noted that:

Miss Margaret Spry, of Creeds, who has been ill the past week, is recovering.

The B. Y. P. U. of the Oak Grove Baptist Church gave a weiner roast at Munden Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Grace Norton and Miss Lucille Fentress, of Norfolk, Va., spent the Fourth with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Fentress.

Mrs. Frances Whithead, of Munden, was the week-end guest of Mrs. E. C. Land.

Misses Emma Barnes, Margaret Spry, and Eleanor Gornio, of Creeds, will leave Wednesday morning for Virginia Beach where they will attend the Baptist encampment.

State Called Upon To Join Rest Of Nation in Safety Campaign

In a united effort to halt a rapidly rising increase in fatal automobile accidents, Virginia has been asked to join the 47 other states in a nation-wide crackdown on speeding and drinking motor vehicle operators.

A letter has been sent to Governor John S. Battle by J. Dewey Dorsett, general manager of the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, in New York, officially transmitting a strongly worded resolution which was adopted by the executive committee of that organization, appealing to all of the states, municipalities and counties in the country to enforce laws governing motor vehicle speeds and driving while under the influence of liquor.

Declaring that speeding and the use of alcoholic beverages are the primary causes of highway accidents, the resolution cites the National Safety Council as authority for the statement that deaths due to motor vehicle accidents rose 11 per cent during the first four months of this year over the corresponding period in 1949. It further pointed out that two-thirds of all such fatalities occurred on rural highways, where excessive speeds are far easier than in crowded streets.

A copy of the resolution has been sent to the governors of all the states and the mayors of all cities above 10,000 population. Copies also will be sent to the governing bodies of all counties in the country. The gravity of the situation is indicated by the fact that this is the first time the Association of Casualty and Surety

Companies, which speaks for 81 insurance companies representing millions of policyholders, has ever taken official action on such a public issue.

Peyton Weary Joins Princeton University Summer Camp Staff

Peyton Weary, of Virginia Beach, will be a member of the staff of Princeton University's Summer Camp, staffed and operated by Princeton undergraduates for the benefit of underprivileged boys from New York City, Philadelphia and New Jersey communities. It opened its 37th season on July 3, it was announced by Howard W. Stepp, University Registrar and Faculty Director of the Camp.

Located in the foothills of the Kittatinny mountains, near Blairstown, N. J., and sponsored by the Student Christian Association, the camp over the course of four fortnightly sessions will accommodate a total of 300 'teen-age youths, all of whom have been selected by welfare agencies such as the Big Brother Movement, Community Service Society and Stuyvesant Neighborhood House in New York City.

With the exception of Mr. Stepp, the camp's administrative staff and counsellors are all drawn from the Princeton student body. The camp's undergraduate director is Everard K. Pinneo, of New Jersey, a member of last month's graduating class and a Princeton camp official for the past three years.

Director Dietrick also announced that Dr. Frank J. Welch, dean of the school of agriculture at Mississippi State College, will speak at the economics section Thursday morning, August 3.

Some of the speakers for the section on civic and social responsibilities of Virginia farm families also have been named by Miss Maude E. Wallace, assistant director. They include: Dr. Carl Taylor, Bureau of Agricultural Economics, USDA, Washington, D. C., whose address on "Insurance for Virginia Home Life," is scheduled for Thursday morning; and Dr. W. H. Kelly, director, Memorial Guidance Clinic, Richmond, who will speak on "Building Good Mental Health," on Friday morning. A panel discussion on "How Families Can Work Together," to be led by Mrs. Lydia Lynde, family life specialist, USDA, Washington, D. C., also is planned for Friday morning.

H. W. Ozlin, county agent, in urging farmers to attend the institute, asks all who can take this trip to notify him as soon as possible. Transportation will be arranged for all who do not have a way to go. A trip to Blacksburg at this time of year affords farmers a most profitable vacation and everyone who can possibly do so should make plans to that end.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Keating

The primary purpose of streamer, bucktail and spinner flies is to get big fish, and big fish lie deep. Getting a fly down under the current is the first lesson in this type of fishing.

An obvious method of sinking a fly deep is to weight it. The best form of weighted fly has a split BB or other metal ball clamped on the head of the fly in the making. Others are weighted in the body. A fly not weighted can be fixed by winding the long shank of the hook with strip lead.

Yet a fly, no matter how it is weighted, will plane to the surface with the line and leader when it is under tension across or against the current. The way it is handled in the water makes the difference claims fly fishing expert Dan Holland.

For instance, when the fly is cast across current, it should be allowed to float free for some distance on an almost slack line. If the current is strong enough, the fly should be cast quartering up stream instead of across to give it a chance to get down.

Another method is to drop the fly in the current where it surges over a rock and cuts under the surface beyond it. Or if it is dropped on the dividing line between current and backwater, it will sink readily.

In any case, once the fly is down under, you'll get the most killin' action with a series of short retrieves, although all types of retrieves should be tried through any likely looking spot. Work the fly slow, especially where interested in walleyes, bass or pike. Eye with large trout, you'll have better luck with a slow-moving fly.

Often the current will grab the belly of the line and race the fly along in spite of everything. T counteract this, the angler must concentrate on the opposite: slow retrieve. It will pay off.

No matter what fly you use, make the stream work for you. Let the current take charge. It is bound to carry the fly in the channels where fish expect food.

Packaging Frozen Foods

A good frozen food deserves a good package. No matter how good the food is when we freeze it, if the package is of low quality the food soon will lose quality.

The chief requirement of a good package is that it be made of a moisture-vapor-resistant material. This means more than just being able to hold water. The package must also keep in the water vapor and keep out the oxygen. Tin cans and glass jars would seem best from this standpoint, but various other materials will give satisfactory service.

There are many suitable packages on the market today. Your locker operator probably sells several types. Heavily waxed cartons with tight covers are satisfactory. Some have a plastic cover which gives a good seal. These are suitable, particularly for fruits which are packed in syrup.

For fruits without syrup and for vegetables, a package consisting of one of the plastic liners protected by a cardboard box is even better. Some types of cellophane, piffon and other plastics have been treated to make them moisture-vapor-resistant, and can be heat-sealed also. These films have been laminated to heavy paper to give them strength.

The shape of the package should also be considered. Round packages waste locker space, so the trend is toward rectangular packages. A thin rectangular package permits more rapid freezing than a cube. It also thaws quicker when it is to be used.

Some of the packages can be washed, and re-used. This cuts the packaging cost without cutting the quality of the package.

If we package properly, we can go a long way toward keeping our frozen foods garden-fresh. A poor package is bound to cause loss of quality and vitamins. Have your locker operator help you pick the right package to fit your needs. Remember, a good frozen food deserves and needs a good package.

Homemakers' Items

Some summer food jobs can be done to best advantage under running water, food specialists say. To prevent tears, peel onions under water. A quick and easy way to wash a head of lettuce and separate the leaves at the same

Justice Reed Named Vice President Trial Justice Association

Trial Justice J. Davis Reed, Jr., was named vice president of the Trial Justice Association of Virginia at a meeting of the group held last week at the Jefferson Hotel. Approximately 60 Trial Justices attended the two-day meet.

Other officers named were: Ralph H. Ricardo, Norfolk County, president; George Walker, Westmoreland County, vice president; with Judge Reed; and W. Francis Binford, Prince George County, renamed secretary-treasurer. Judge Ricardo succeeds J. L. Landrum, Hanover County, as president.

time is to cut out the white "core" or stem at the base of the head, and then let water flow in. The same method may be used to help wash and separate celery stalks. Scraping carrots under water hastens the job because the water carries off the bits of peel as you scrape. Beets, hot from the kettle, are easily held and skinned under a cold flow of water.

As for the hard-cooked eggs for summer picnics, salads, and cold plates, they should be cooled promptly after cooking to prevent over-cooking. This rapid cooling also helps ward off the dark ring which sometimes appears around the yolk. Both cooling and shelling can be done simultaneously under the cold water faucet.

Crack the egg shell by tapping at the large end where there is an air space underneath. The air space makes it easy to get a fingerhold to start peeling off the shell. The flow of water not only cools the egg but also helps ease off the shell and any bits left on the white.

The U.S. submarine Cero made a non-stop 8-thousand mile run from Panama to Australia during World War II.

Interest Running High in Playground Tennis Tourney

Thirty-three applicants have signed up for the Virginia Beach Public Tennis Tournament which is scheduled to get underway Saturday, July 8. Most of the applicants to date are men and boys. Tournament officials hope that more girls will enter.

A special effort will be made by the tournament committee to furnish balls and rackets for the boys and girls unable to furnish their own. No entry fee will be charged in the boys, girls, or junior classes. A suitable trophy will be awarded winners in each event.

Starting time has been moved up to July 10 at nine o'clock for all except the men's division. This was necessitated due to the large number of entries in the boys' classification. The men will begin play as scheduled, Saturday, July 8. A set of new tennis balls will be required of the men.

Players may enter their names on the poster at the soft drink stand at the playground, or given any member of the tournament committee. The committee is composed of Earl Wise, Mrs. Orlan Avert, "Buddy" Leatherwood, Dr. R. A. Stata, Dr. Frank Wells, Bill Bradt and "Bubba" Bayne. Residents of Princess Anne County, Virginia Beach, or summer residents are eligible to enter.

Insurance Payments Almost Complete, Says VA

Special Cases May Require Processing After June 30

The payment of the special dividend on GI insurance will be virtually completed on schedule, the Veterans Administration reports. June 30 was the target date set by VA for paying most of the dividends. It was expected that by that date checks would go out to more than 15,000,000 ex-servicemen who held National Service Life Insurance or to the survivors of deceased veterans who were entitled to the dividend.

There are a certain number of veterans who have made applications for the dividend but have not yet received their checks. In other cases the veteran's dividend application failed to give complete information by which his account could be identified. In some cases veterans moved after making their application, without notifying the local post office of their new address, with the result that their dividend checks were returned to the VA marked "address unknown."

VA says in many cases where the veteran has not received a check to which he is entitled by June 30 but has received a dividend acknowledgement card, it will inform him that his application is being processed and that he may expect the check in a short time. Such veterans should receive cards from VA around June 30 and are requested not to write for further information.

Where a veteran has not received an acknowledgement of his dividend application, he should get a new application card from his post office or nearest VA office, mark it duplicate and mail to VA, carefully filled in.

If a veteran has received an acknowledgement card but does not get either his check or advice from VA shortly after June 30, he should write a letter of inquiry to the Director, Special Insurance Project, Veterans Administration, Washington 25, D. C. This letter should contain complete identifying information.

Federal Savings and Loan Association To Pay Dividend

Directors of the Virginia Beach Federal Savings and Loan Association have authorized the payment of the regular semi-annual dividend of one and one-half percent. The dividend will be distributed among shareholders as of June 30 and will total approximately $12,000. This continues the institution's current rate of 3 percent per annum.

Roy Smith, president of the Association, announced yesterday that the semi-annual statement soon to be published would, for the first time, total over one million dollars.

"When we organized the Association in 1935," said Mr. Smith, "we expected it would be many more years before it reached its present size. At that time the worst of the depression had just passed and few people wanted to invest money in a new institution. However, we managed to raise enough to get the charter and to start business. The Virginia Beach Federal has grown up with this community and we are now considering moving to larger quarters. We are grateful to our shareholders for this confidence in the institution."

Besides Mr. Smith, officers and directors of the Association are: Judge F. E. Kellam and R. E. Taylor, vice president; W. H. Terry, Jr., secretary-treasurer; Miss Mary Bridges, assistant secretary; and F. W. Ackles, C. R. Bryant, William F. Hudgins, Dr. W. L. Taylor and C. T. Whitehead, directors.

The Virginia Beach Federal is a member of the Virginia Savings, Building and Loan League, the Federal Home Loan Bank System and its snafus are insured up to $5,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

First of the Fine Cars in Value

The Car that puts your Best Foot forward

We think you'll agree that the whole story of an automobile isn't told in its power, its room, its styling, even in its ride.

There is the all-important point about what a car does to you—and that's where ROADMASTER really shines.

For you can't slip into this bonny beauty's broad seats without feeling like somebody pretty special.

When you take its neat wheel in your hand—when you cut loose, with a toe-touch, the rich baritone of its big Fireball straight-eight power plant—when you feel the smooth surge of its Dynaflo-cushioned take-off—

Man, then you know you've got a real automobile!

And don't overlook this:

That graceful sweep of chrome along the fender—found on no other car made today—is a mighty eye-catching note of distinction.

Those four Ventiports, too, cause many a head to turn—they mark you unmistakably as the owner of the biggest and best Buick built—a car as fine and rich as any man has need for.

There are a lot of good, solid, dollars-and-cents reasons for making ROADMASTER your choice over any other car:

Its size. The commanding performance of its 152-hp Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight engine. Dynaflo Drive standard. A ride that's quite matchless in its gentle softness. Distinguished styling from bold, protective front end to gleaming "double bubble" taillight.

But if you're ready for a car that's more than just an automobile—if you want one that puts your best foot forward in any company—that's the real reason for seeing your Buick dealer quickly—to talk turkey about a ROADMASTER.

FOUR-WAY FRONT

This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) carries on repair work—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

Grand Jury Brings In 40 Indictments; All Post Bonds

Judge Kellam Asks Trouble Spots Be 'Policed to Death'

The 40 indictments brought last Saturday by the special grand jury named by Judge Floyd E. Kellam, Circuit Court, to investigate reports of gambling and illegal sales of whiskey will not be returnable until the August term of court, according to the Commonwealth's Attorney, F. W. Acklin.

The indictments were directed against 23 individuals and included slot machines, possession of gambling paraphernalia, illegal sale of whiskey, and operation of a common nuisance.

The grand jury report stressed: "It is not the opinion of the grand jury that those indicted on slot machine charges are more guilty than others in the town and county against whom evidence was not presented."

The grand jury also suggested that "certain trouble spots which should definitely be eliminated be policed to death through repeated raids and arrests." This note was also struck by Judge Kellam when he accepted the report.

Judge Kellam said: "Gentlemen, the illegal slot machines, known as the one-arm bandits, must be banished, and I call on the police departments to see that the law is strictly enforced and ask the help and cooperation of all the people of the community in securing the enforcement of the same."

"As to those particular night clubs that will not observe the laws and have become a nuisance, the police departments should try to police them to death, and I call on them to do so."

At time of going to press, the City's Office at the County House reported that all 23 indicted persons had voluntarily come forward to post bond for their appearance.

Children's Home Society Conducts Fund Campaign

The annual campaign for funds conducted by the Children's Home Society of Virginia in Princess Anne County is being held during the month of July. It has been announced.

Miss Ida Saunders, field secretary, from State headquarters of the Society in Richmond, has been assisting local citizens in completing plans for the campaign.

The local drive is part of a State-wide effort to raise $150,000 needed for current operational expenses of the Children's Home Society this year.

The goal set is the same as last year and is $4,400 less than was spent for actual expenses during 1949.

Last year the State-wide campaign failed to reach its goal by early $10,000. The deficit was made up from excess funds used in other years, but this practice cannot be continued, Edward A. Wayne, of Richmond, State-wide Campaign Chairman, has declared.

"We must raise enough to support the organization's work or curtail our expenses, which in the end will mean cutting down the number of children we can take into care," Mr. Wayne stated.

The Children's Home Society is the State's oldest and largest private adoption agency. It celebrated its 50th anniversary January 31, having been incorporated in 1900. It has given continuous service to Virginia's needy and homeless youngsters during the past half century.

UP AND UP AND UP

Mrs. White Invites Teen-agers to Enter Fair Contest

Contest to Stimulate Interest in Fashions For Teen-age Girls

Alice Brewer White, fashion director for the Princess Anne County Fair, has extended an invitation to all teen-agers in Princess Anne County, between the ages of 13 and 19, to participate in the Young-Teens-of-Fashion Scrapbook contest which will be held during the late afternoon of the third day of the Princess Anne County Fair, September 8, in the Fashion Hall at Seaside Park.

Scrapbooks may contain anything—stories, photographs, cartoons and sketches of designs—said may be of any size. Any teen-age girl may enter this contest by mailing a postal card to: Scrapbook Contest, c/o Princess Anne County Fair, Virginia Beach, Virginia. There is no fee to enter this contest. Girls sending in their entries are asked to place their name, address, age, school and phone number on the card.

Emily Wilkins, famous designer for teens, and Betty Bets, teen-agers' favorite cartoonist, have been invited to select the three prizes for the three best fashion scrapbooks. The prizes will be wearing apparel gifts and will be accompanied by first, second and third place Fashion Merit Ribbons.

"This contest will stimulate interest in fashions for the teen-age girl who feels she would like to know the correct way and wherefore of fashions," Mrs. White stated in making this announcement. "It will give teen-age girls an opportunity to present their own ideas and who knows, it may develop new designers of fashions—right here in Princess Anne—through participation in this Young-Teens-of-Fashion Scrapbook Contest," she said.

Mrs. White, who is fashion and woman's director of WTAR and WTAR-TV, will show the winning fashion scrapbooks and present the winners in a special Young-Teens-of-Fashion television show on one of her "Girl About Our Town" television presentations over WTAR-TV later in September.

Theatre-Go-Round Presents Laugh Loaded Hit

Popular Comedy Has Appeal For People of All Ages

As a rule rabbits are considered "inexpensive." At certain seasons they can be purchased for as little as 25 cents, and at other seasons they can be had for nothing. But the rabbit called "Harvey," who's week-ending at Virginia Beach, has visited nearly every store in town, and who can be seen nightly thru Tuesday at Theatre-Go-Round, is no ordinary rabbit. No, Mr. "Harvey" can't be bought for love nor money, he can only be rented.

Bob and Lesley O'Flaherty said today that the weekly rental on this famous animal specimen is exactly $300.00. This is the royalty fee theatre has paid the "Harvey" exhibitors just for the right to present this play at the Theatre-Go-Round this week only at Virginia Beach.

ABC Board Grants Hour Extension for Beer, Wine Sales

Midnight Curfew Set for Norfolk, Town and County

An extra hour for beer and wine sales became available to tavern patrons on Wednesday of this week when an ABC Board ruling went into effect extending the tavern curfew to midnight.

The extended tavern hours are effective not only at Virginia Beach but in Princess Anne County as well. The governing bodies of both town and county had petitioned the ABC Board, at the behest of tavern owners, for the extra hour of service.

At Virginia Beach, the council had asked for an extension until 1 a.m. during the summer months, but no mention was made of the extra hour at the Beach in the Board's report, and it was presumed that the extra time was denied.

Extension of beer sales to midnight will be the first change in ABC regulations in the Norfolk area since early in World War II when military officials enforced the 11 p.m. curfew plan. The 11 p.m. cut-off hour on beer and wine sales became State-wide and reports from Richmond indicate the new hours here are the first granted in any section of the Commonwealth.

Admiral Davis recommended that the Norfolk City Council ask the ABC Board for an extension in the tavern closing time on the basis that the 11 p.m. curfew created problems between civilians and servicemen who had no place to go after that hour.

Hotel Serves Unique "Liberty Dinner"

The newly decorated dining room of the Martha Washington Hotel was the scene of a most interesting and unique "Liberty Dinner," which was served to all registered guests, on July Fourth.

An eagle and a liberty bell carved from blocks of ice, with red, white and blue lights shining through, artistic horn decorations, and a huge cake in the form of a Bible with flags on each side, and other attractive features and decorations made the occasion one of much interest and beauty. The entire affair was planned and carried out by the chef and Miss Margaret Hollow, who have charge of the dining room. Mrs. J. Wesley Gardner and Mrs. Fletcher J. Wright, of Petersburg, social hosts for the hotel, and Miss Peggy Essler, of Richmond, dining room hostess, received the guests.

Summer time is play time for children. The National Safety Council requests all drivers to slow down and be ready for an emergency.

Unusual Catch At Ocean Fishing Pier

One of the most unusual catches in the brief history of the Ocean Fishing Pier was reported this week.

James Barbour and George Stone, both of Danville, were fishing off the pier Monday morning and pulled in a good-sized living conch. The fishermen were using shrimp as bait when the big shellfish took the hook.

Retirement Plan Adopted for Fire, Police Personnel

A retirement plan, based on that now in use for the State Police, was adopted by the Town Council for the Virginia Beach Police and Fire Departments at the regular session on Tuesday.

The plan, which is set forth in the Code of Virginia, calls for a 3 per cent deduction from salaries of the two protective forces, which is met equally by the town. It becomes effective September 1. Those eligible for retirement must have served 20 years on the force, after which the monthly retirement payment is based on a percentage of the monthly salary received during the last three years of a man's service.

For total disability, a sum equal to two-thirds of the monthly salary is paid. The plan was set forth by Frederick F. W. Strickland to the council.

The council also passed favorably on a petition from the Virginia Beach School Board, asking that the body request of Circuit Judge F. E. Kellam that a referendum be called to discover the voters will on whether or not a high school for junior and senior departments will be built.

The council has already received word from the Literary Fund of the state that $700,000 will be made available to Virginia Beach for high school construction. The loan is repayable at a 3 per cent interest rate, according to Superintendent of Schools Frank W. Cox.

Town Attorney Ray Smith was instructed to proceed at once to draw up the petition to Judge Kellam for the referendum. Councilmen expressed confidence that the people of the town desire the high school construction, and declared that it would be desirable to have the referendum called within 30 days in order that the building might be begun without delay.

Sewerage Plant

The council heard Town Sanitary Engineer A. Worth Petty concerning the desirability of increasing the capacity of the sewerage disposal plant which is now taxed to capacity, he asserted. With the addition of the new Mayflower Apartments and the housing project in the construction stage at the southwest corner of Virginia Beach, the plant will be unable to stand up under the load being put upon it, Mr. Petty said.

He declared that it might be possible to make arrangements with the Federal Government for assistance in increasing the plant, since through Part B of the Government is a large sum. Moreover, Mayor W. F. Patton suggested that it might be possible to make arrangements with the county to bear some of the expense, since, he said, it is possible that sewerage to North Virginia Beach will be contemplated.

Cost of doubling the present plant capacity, according to Mr. Petty, would be in the neighborhood of a quarter million dollars.

Literary Contest Offers Cash Prizes

Want to win a cash prize? Why not enter the Literary Contest of the Princess Anne County Fair? The Fair will be sponsored by the Princess Anne Women's Club and the Princess Anne Ruritan Club and will be held at Seaside Park September 6-10.

Competition is open to anyone residing in Princess Anne County who can write a play, short story, editorial or other newspaper article, radio script or any other prose manuscript. No long novels should be turned in as the judges do not have time to read them.

Mail your entry to Mrs. W. C. Everett, 3703 Atlantic Avenue, Virginia Beach, literary chairman of the Fair.

Independence Bond Drive Over Top In County, Town

According to a late report Princess Anne County has over-subscribed its quota in the Independence Bond Drive. Figures released today show total sales of $33,362.50 for the county, whose quota was set at $30,000. With the National Bank of Commerce reporting $23,061.36 and the Bank of Virginia Beach $1,181.25, Princess Anne County went over the top by $3,262.50.

According to the News Letter of the Treasury Department, E Bond sales show that only about 10 per cent of the hundred counties have made their quotas.

The News Letter sounds a hopeful note however when it declares: "While it is late and the Independence Bond Drive promotional period ended July 4, the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond will credit all E Bond sales received by it to and including Monday, July 17, toward the Independence Drive quota. Each issuing agency should be contacted and urged to get their E Bond figures into the Federal Reserve Bank by the 17th."

"Virginia has never failed to make its quota. We are counting on you to put your county over the top."

Women's Tennis Tournament to Begin Tuesday

Play in the men's, boys' and junior tennis tournament at the Virginia Beach Playground is moving into the semi-finals. Flashed by showers every day since the meet began, the officials are finding it difficult to maintain a schedule. Tennis directors indicated they expect to start play for the women Tuesday, July 18, weather permitting.

In the boys' tourney the winner of the match between Bill Stokes and Jimmy Bradt will meet Al Morecock for the title. Bill Stokes is expected to win on his experienced game. The Morecock brothers, George and Al, look good and bed fair to develop into mighty fine players. These two were outstanding among the younger players from the Beach.

In the men's meet, the seeded players ran true to form, although Edgar Cayce and Bill Bradt ran into very tough competition before winning their matches.

Weather permitting the singles finals will be played Sunday at 2 p.m. The public is invited.

Play in the men's doubles is scheduled to begin Saturday, July 15. The tournament directors were pleased with the record turn-out of 88 contestants for the tourney.

Awards will be presented by Mrs. Frank Burleson on visitors night. To earn one of these awards a Girl Scout must master the following skills: knot tying, simple first aid, proper use, care, and safety of knife and hatchet, fire building, conservation, and personal and group safety.

In Memoriam

We write this obituary in memory of all the good and fine things that were once Virginia Beach. We write of the decent, the God-fearing people who were its citizens.

Now the era has changed. Rather than decent we have for the most part a decadent citizenry—rather than God-fearing, we have for the most part a Machine-fearing citizenry. Of all those who professed their support in the fight for law and order, only a handful have had the common decency and courage to stand up for the truth and take the consequences. Judas? Only one Judas mentioned in the Bible. How many at Virginia Beach?

To many, this should be our own obituary. It is not, nor is it defeat, nor surrender. We have the courage of our convictions and until our convictions have proved wrong or the immunity of the Fourth Estate is threatened, we shall not write our own obituary.

The burden we shall bear; the cause we shall not.

The blame for ill fame lies in rotten roots, not in the quivering branches. We have been given full credit (or blame) for the discovery of a score or more bad branches in Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach, yet not one bad root has been dug up. We have been dealt the perfect "frame" according to those who have perpetrated the scheme. There are those among the indicted, the little men, who cannot or will not see through to the bottom but condemn the depth of the water because of its surface. These are the short-sighted, the narrow-minded group who will continue to ally themselves to their enemy and will continue to get punched "below the belt" by their appointed allies. If the dander of these men is running hot, it is for good cause. To handpick 23 little fellows out of a possible 523 for indictment is reason enough for ire.

Our rights to Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness have all been jeopardized by the laws of our State as interpreted in our community: My Life, because I condemn the lawbreaker—the lawbreaker's Liberty, because enforcement of the law is used as a threat—and our combined Pursuit of Happiness, because of the whim of those who dictate enforcement.

The memorial services will be held later. The pallbearers will be your children and mine!

Letters to Editor

Dear Editor:

The recent Princess Anne County Grand Jury report on vice conditions in that county and at Virginia Beach is hereby nominated as the fish tale of the season and titled "And all the big ones got away." Otherwise put, it appears that finding the mote was child's play but the beam elusively escaped the majority of this body of peers.

If there be a bag man or a reasonable facsimile, and I think there is, of course, I cannot prove it, for I am neither vice lord nor privileged government official. It is not juvenile to think that either one or the other with a vested interest in crime or debased government would disclose the identity of this sinister and mysterious "bagman"? The tax payer's servants dared to enforce the law can "shadow" with less than normal difficulty the individual whose name is on the lips of sixty per cent of the so called natives, both young and old, to determine once and for all if many are correct in their opinion of how Cadillac are born.

The continued use of the terms heretofore and admissible evidence in the report is puzzling. Do the Jurors not know the difference between a Grand Jury and a Petit Jury? Any evidence pertinent to the charges investigated is not only admissible to the Grand Jury but should be sought and pursued by the Jurors until its usefulness be completely exhausted. Was it not the duty of the Grand Jury therefore, to ferret out and indict the others whom they stated they believed as guilty as those for whom true bills were returned? Virginia Code 19-127—Oath of Grand Jury:

"You shall diligently inquire, and true presentment make, of all such matters as may be given you in charge, or come to your knowledge, touching the present service. You shall present no person through prejudice or illwill, nor leave any through fear or favor, but in all your presentments, you shall present the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. So help you God."

This body has no part in sitting upon the trial of the indicted and prosecuting for his conviction. This last is the responsibility of the people's counsel—yours and mine—the Commonwealth's Attorney, retained by us at an annual fee of around $6,000.00. He is pledged, after receiving the indictment, to use every legitimate means to obtain and truly present to the Court all relevant admissible evidence to the end that justice be meted under the laws of the Commonwealth. If less is done, he has not properly earned his fee, and worse, he has breached his oath of office.

The report states "that evidence sufficient for conviction in a trial court can be obtained only by trained plain clothes enforcement officers..." It is recommended that if the authorities feel the vice situation, etc., is sufficiently serious to justify the expense involved some outside investigative agency be employed by said town or county to obtain the technical evidence necessary for convictions. Was it not the duty of the Grand Jury to ascertain whether the situation was serious enough? In light of the evidence, not all necessarily direct, that I personally know was before the Jury, it is evident that if the Jurors do not believe existing conditions sufficiently serious a majority of them have either a mental or moral blind spot.

As for special investigators, I blushingly admit, that I, alone, have legally paid enough state tax on "bottled escapism" since the inauguration in 1934 of the present system of state liquor distribution to feed and clothe one of our A. B. C. enforcement officials and family for longer than it would take a diligent, capable, honest one to acquire sufficient evidence admissible before a Petit Jury to close every nip and clip in the confines of Virginia Beach and also make a dent in hose in Princess Anne County.

Mr. Governor, does it occur to you that the foregoing statement by the Grand Jury is a direct admission that the "local constabulary" cannot cope with existing crime? It is their job to police this vice, and if they do not, the choice of verbs is yours—either cannot or will not. Remember these words—"It will be my purpose to see to it that the State's obligation in those matters is discharged where local authorities are unwilling to properly enforce the law"—if you do not recall, I refer you to your letter of May 9, 1950 to me.

Incidentally, why police the trouble spots to death as recommended by Jury and Judge? The boys are admittedly spread thin on their beats, and the Virginia Code, Section 4-81 provides wherever alcohol is illegally dispensed that place may be closed by order of the Court.

Below is a copy of a testimonial in behalf of an efficient local police department and a Grand Jury's duty well done, which hit the street shortly after the Grand Jury made their report.

Behind the Scenes in American Business

New York—Housing may again be the dominant factor in this year's economic picture. If demand for new dwellings holds up, the picture will be a bright one. The country's home-builders broke ground for 126,000 new units in April—an all-time monthly high for the industry. At that rate we'll wind up the year with more than 1,000,000 new dwellings. The importance of this for business men throughout the country lies in the boost it gives to sales in other lines. Thus dealers in stoves, refrigerators, automatic dishwashers, and other kitchen appliances, furniture and rugs, and businesses which market products like water heaters, room heaters, bathroom fixtures, toasters, fans and television sets will benefit by the current home building boom. Meanwhile, there's one danger in the present situation: unless the upward thrust of lumber and labor costs levels off, a lot of potential home buyers will take themselves out of the market. That's what happened back in 1919, when the bidding up of material prices nipped a budding building boom in the following year. If that happens again, it could kill plenty of sales for thousands of home equipment dealers. Present indications, however, are that building material costs have about reached their peak. They probably won't drop to last summer's low, but it's a good bet that they'll taper off to a point below this year's highs.

LONGEVITY PROBLEM—Because Americans are living longer, finding jobs for the rapidly mounting number of older workers may become a major industrial problem. Since 1900 medical science has been busy adding years to the human life span. The average life expectancy at birth is now 66, 17 years longer than in 1900. By 1980, it is estimated, some 20,000,000 Americans will be over 65 (in 1900 there were only 3,000,000). Most of them, if the present trend continues, will be jobless. Medicine has added years to human life; but medicine alone cannot add life to the added years. In the opinion of Dr. Charles E. Dutches, medical director of Schenley Laboratories, Inc., a combination of modern medical weapons—preventive medicine, the "wonder drugs" and better care and treatment—can add vigor and life to old age. Dr. Dutches believes, but not until the experts find a way to employ the aged in useful economic activities will the 65-and-over group "realize the full potential" of their added life span.

THINGS TO COME—A midge-model portable refrigerator lets you mix drinks without even setting up. About the size of a table radio, it holds six ice trays, several bottles. . . . Built for lifetime service, a newly marketed gas-fired indoor incinerator consumes all combustible wastes, trash as well as garbage. . . . Ideal for toils, a new anti-spill plastic tumbler and base combination is practically non-tippable. The wide, tight-fitting base causes the tumbler to slide instead of tip when it's pushed or bumped. . . . Another infant innovation is an inflatable dress form for children.

To duplicate juvenile measurements you simply stitch up a basic muslin cover in the correct size. As the child grows the cover's seams can be let out and the waistline lowered. . . . Punched with more than 400 holes, a versatile new "hang-it-up" board accommodates everything from kitchen utensils and garden tools to dish towels and aprons. Specially designed hooks, made to fit the holes, make the feat possible.

CIVIC BOOSTERS—Businessman Joyce Hall figured that the home town of his Hallmark greeting card firm, Kansas City, Mo., was "too often judged by certain spectacular events." He decided to tell the story of K.C.'s "other" side to the nation as a prelude to the month-long centennial celebration which opened June 3 in the Missouri river metropolis. So he put a full hour's dramatization of "The Story of Kansas City" on a nationwide radio network. Other Kansas City industrialists are working to restore the city's civic reputation, too. Three acres of show space in a huge industrial exposition there this month will tell the story of the city's billion-dollar manufacturing industry. A major fashion show will highlight the city's position as a retail and apparel center. Business is helping prove that "everything's up to date in Kansas City" again.

BITTS O' BUSINESS—Mad haters—that may be an apt description of America's Kelly-makers if the masculine trend to "hatlessness" gets much worse. Since 1937, annual fur felt hat output has shrunk from 1,715,429 dozen to 1,300,640 dozen (1949 production). Biggest "offenders" are men under 26, 45 per cent of whom belong to the bareheaded brigade, even in winter. . . . Coal is running a poor third to gas and oil

OFFICIAL BOARDING

The extent to which surplus inventories of stock are built up by some Federal agencies was recently pointed out to the House Appropriations Committee by Jess Larson, General Services Administrator. He said one agency had a supply of tracing cloth which would last them 9 years, enough fluorescent light tubes to last 99 years, sufficient ruled filler paper to last 106 years and a stock of loose leaf binders which would last them 247 years.

During World War II there were 10,825 Virginians serving in the United States Marine Corps. Included in this number were 164 women.

BUILD SKIMMER, A BATTERY-POWERED MINIATURE CRUISER

Dear Dad:
This little job, designed by Paul Plecan, was planned with one thought in mind—maximum enjoyment with minimum construction effort. A couple of Eveready Pen-Light batteries are all you need to propel this little beauty. You should be able to build it from the plans above but if you would like to read and see a little more about it get a copy of the July issue of Mechanic Illustrated magazine.

After tracing the outlines from the parts patterns, cut out the required parts with a jig saw. Assembly should be easy if you mark the parts in ink as you progress and if you refer to the hull construction sketches, which show the step-by-step procedure. Once the hull is assembled, it should be laid aside to allow the cement sufficient time to dry properly. If you are using model airplane cement, an hour should be ample time. In the meantime, cut out the metal parts, such as the rudder and demagog. It will pay to use templates to insure accuracy in cutting the hull, so prepare a set by tracing the full-size cross sections onto thin cardboard and cutting out the inner parts of the curves.

Carve the hull bottom carefully and follow up with successively finer grades of sandpaper to get a smooth surface. The speed of the boat will depend largely on your ability to carve and sand without leaving bumps and hollows on the bottom of the hull. Once the hull has been carved and sanded, a coat of wood filler should be applied. Sand lightly with fine sandpaper, then apply a coat or two of airplane dope.

The power plant consists of a tiny electric motor, available at all model stores. Make sure that the motor is carefully aligned with the shaft, for if it is not, a good deal of speed will be lost due to friction. Do the wiring before applying the finish.

Ordinary sewing thread will serve as a tether. To keep the line taut and out of the water, the rudder should be kept straight ahead. Fasten the line to a pole about 2 ft. above the water level. Too small a circle will cut down speed. A 15-ft. line is about right.

Lots of luck,
Robert Brightman
Crafts and Hobbies Editor
Mechanic Illustrated

The Norfolk and Western's outboard Powhatan Arrow sliced through a wide red and silver ribbon Monday to officially open the world's largest double-tracked bore. Eikhorn Tunnel, on the railroad's main line eleven miles west of Bluefield, W. Va., has a minimum width and height inside of 31 and 35 feet. It is 7,110 feet in length, longest on the N. & W. With the opening of the twelve million dollar tunnel and 3.57-mile track relocation project, the road plans abandonment of historic Old Eikhorn, the original single-tracked tunnel built in 1888 to open rich coal territory to seaboard markets. The railway also began demolition of its 70 miles of electrified trackage, now unnecessary because of more powerful steam locomotives and reduced grades and curvatures in the busy area. Westbound traffic will continue to use the old tunnel for about three months after which the rich coal seam which it follows will be mined

Termite Control Should Begin Before Building

Don't give termites a one-way ticket to your home.

If you are building, or thinking of building, a home, you can save some added expense by following some suggestions for termite control.

Entomologists at V. F. I. say ground-nesting termites can cause you plenty of trouble if you don't check them early.

Most of these termites infest buildings because the wood lies in direct or indirect contact with the moist ground. So before you begin building, go through the soil with a fine tooth rake and remove all wood debris. During construction, keep pieces of lumber and wall board from being buried around the foundation. Once you remove the wood, lumber, staves, etc., and you have built your foundation free of cracks and crevices, you have taken the two most important steps in protecting your home against termites.

For control of termites, the entomologists recommend chemicals such as sodium arsenite, DDT and pentachlorophenol. Since these are poisonous materials, they should be used only according to directions given in Farmers' Bulletin No. 1993 of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, on "Preventing Decay and Termite Damage in Houses." Write the Agricultural Extension Service at V. F. I., Blacksburg, Va.

First of the Fine Cars in Value

This one Telescopes your Timetable

Of course you recognize it. Who doesn't know that those four Ventiports, that graceful sweep of fender-chrome, mark ROADMASTER—best of all the Buicks, unquestioned "big buy" of the fine-car field? But have you tried it?

Have you matched this sweet-stepping bonny against the tall hills, and the call of the straight-away?

Ever toiled it across town—and seen how Dynaflow's quick surge and smooth take-off slip you through traffic with minimum of foot-motion and maximum of time-saving?

Ever known the good feel of a light and easy wheel, swinging almost at a finger's touch—the soul-satisfying lift in a big 152-hp Fireball engine just waiting for the release your toe-pressure gives it?

Ever sampled that famous Buick ride—steady, level, unperturbed, soft with the special gentleness of coil springs on all four wheels, sweetly restful in both front and rear seats?

There's no reason, really, to wait longer for such satisfying experience.

There's a Buick dealer near you. He delights in showing off ROADMASTER. He'll arrange—unless all his demonstration cars have been snatched away from him by eager buyers—to put you behind a ROADMASTER wheel.

Why not see him now—be and out what's finest in today's fine cars, and how little it takes to buy one?

Tip on Broccoli

Broccoli has become one of our most popular frugal vegetables. It doesn't cost a fortune, but does from time to time a very good product. Broccoli for freezing should be fresh out of the garden. The heads should be tightly bunched and compact. If there are any yellow flowers showing, it is too old to freeze. Trim off the large leaves and the tough ends of the stalk. Wash thoroughly. Then cut the stems in salt water (a quart of water for about half an hour). This will draw out the worms and bugs. Then cut the broccoli lengthwise, leaving the heads about 1 1/2 inches across. Do for this in what you would do if you were preparing the broccoli for the table.

Now you are ready to blanch. You can blanch in boiling water for 4 minutes, if you wish, counting the time from the moment the water returns to a boil after adding the broccoli. However, broccoli is better if it is steam-blanch. To steam-blanch you will need a boiler with a tight lid and a rack to hold the broccoli about 3 inches above the boiling water. Place a single layer of broccoli in the boiler so that steam reaches all parts quickly. Cover the water boiling hard. Cover tightly and keep the heat high. Steam cooking time is about 10 to 15 minutes. Blanch for 10 minutes.

Cooling after blanching is very important. Cool the broccoli in ice water if possible. Drain the broccoli when it is cool all the way through the stalk.

Package the broccoli as that about half the heads are at each end of the package. This saves space. Fill the package to the top and seal. If you are the seal is tight. Then freeze at once at zero deg. F or lower, and store in your freezer.

Remember, the quicker you can freeze your vegetables after they are picked, the better frozen product you will have.

Remember! Home

Don't keep your waffle iron in hiding and don't be a "one-waffle" cook.

Nutritionists at V. P. I. list these suggestions: Put thin slices of pre-cooked ham, bacon, or luncheon meats in the iron before adding the batter. Bake for about one minute. Then pour the batter on top and bake. Such meat waffles are good with scrambled eggs—and make good main dishes for breakfast, brunch, or supper.

You can make dessert waffles, too. Before cooking the waffle grids, sprinkle coconut or chopped dates and nuts over the top. Or make apple waffles by adding 1 1/2 cups of chopped apples to the batter before folding in the egg whites.

If your children do not know poison ivy, poison oak and poison sumac from other plants, now is a good time to teach them. Only be sure you teach them at a safe distance from the poisonous plants. Each of these plants—you may remember—has three leaves. So a good rule of thumb for the youngsters is the old saying, "Leaves three, let it be."

Early Peaches Move to Market At Top Prices

Virginia crop of early peaches—coming mainly from the Northern Neck and South Central areas—is moving to market at top prices now, reports Fred Drilling, associate Extension horticulturist at V. P. I.

The peaches, mostly of the Early-Hod-Pee variety, are selling for as much as $9.00 a bushel on the Eastern Virginia market; but prices are slated for a drop as volume increases, Mr. Drilling believes.

The Early-Hod-Pee variety with excellent size and good form, is showing better than it has for many years, the specialist reports.

The next variety to move on Virginia markets will be Red Haven.

Mr. Drilling says most of the peaches in the state this year are early varieties, rather than the more prominent Elberta. The Elberta is less resistant to late spring frosts, and has suffered heavily this year.

As for the insect-disease situation, it's not too severe a problem this year. There is a clean crop, with less-than-usual brown rot and insect damage.

The 1950 peach crop, however, is estimated at about 900,000 bushels—a 40 per cent drop from last year. Nationwide, the outlook is for about 50,000,000 bushels, or 70 per cent of the 1949 crop.

In the Northern area, the peach crop will run about one-third to one-half of normal. Here, too, the early varieties are bearing heavier than the late varieties.

Soil Samples Will Show How Much Lime Is Needed

How much lime do the soils on your farm need?

P. H. Bellard, agronomist for the Extension Service at V. P. I., says now is a good time to take a soil sample, send it for a test, and find out about lime and plant food needs.

Agonomists at V. P. I. ordinarily have a slack season in July, and can give more prompt service on soil tests than at other times.

A soil test is particularly important if you're planning pasture improvement and development. Alfalfa and ladino clover require an abundance of calcium and a proper soil acidity for best growth.

Mr. Bellard says many soils throughout the state do not need lime, even though it has not been applied during the past five to ten years. On the other hand, soils that have been limed during the past five years may need additional applications for best growth of ladino and alfalfa.

If the soil does not need lime, you waste your money if you apply it, and your land may show over-liming injury. If the soil does need lime, and you don't apply it, you're wasting money spent for seed and fertilizer.

Your county agent can give detailed instructions for taking soil samples, and will supply sample boxes free of charge.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

There it Was—Right in The Middle!

Many Roberts moved his town early last Saturday. Then he sat on the porch, and watched Randy Roberts coming his way. The Roberts property and the Petersons' border each other—with no hedge or fence between them. So, when Randy noticed Randy had left about a four-foot strip unmowed along the boundary, he waits over and tells him.

"That's your land," says Randy. "Line ends here. Now, it lines up with that oak tree across the road!" Randy didn't think so, so they went up and down looking for the surveyor's marker. Where did they find it? Right in the middle of that "no man's land!"

Well, they both grin and take turns holding the job and then retreat to Randy's for a friendly glass of beer together. From where I sit, a little something around for the truth of the matter often shows that the other fellow is as much right as you are—at which point the whole thing doesn't seem as important anyway.

Harvey's in town! Yes, the little bunny who isn't there is finally here. Harvey, the idol of the Broadway stage for more than four years and of the whole world since he was born six years ago, is perhaps the most famous little animal since the snake that tempted Adam and Eve. You can think of all the famous animals you ever knew or heard of—Black Beauty, Henny Penny, the Three Little Pigs, the Big Bad Wolf, Ferdinand the Bull, Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck, and Tom and Jerry—yet when it comes to real fame, Harvey has them all beat.

The tall (six feet one and a half inches) young man-about-the-world arrived at Virginia Beach Wednesday morning to play the leading role in Theatre-Go-Round's presentation of the popular play named after him, "Harvey." There was a great deal of excitement at the Norfolk airport that day when the dapper, fur-clad rabbit stepped down from the DC-4 carrying his handbags and directing the porters who were handling his trunks. Wearing a bow tie and top hat, and carrying a black cane, Harvey waved politely to the gaping crowds and stepped into the waiting Theatre-Go-Round station wagon. In a half hour's time he was on the lot at the corner of 81st Street and Atlantic, and shaking hands with all the actors and actresses who will assist him in the popular comedy hit.

Last night Harvey gave his first performance before a large and enthusiastic audience, thrilling the girls with his good looks, and impressing the men with his poise and charm. In the play he was introduced by a character called Elwood P. Dowd, a gentle spirit-loving man, who calls Harvey his very best friend. This particular role in the play is acted by Jon Dawson, but the role of Harvey is acted by the wise rabbit himself. The audience—especially the many children present—howled with glee as Elwood and Harvey chatted and walked about the stage, and plotted to confuse and mystify the other characters in the play. When the play was over, no one wanted to leave, and Harvey himself got the largest ovation. Harvey told a reporter afterwards that his reception here at the Beach was the best he had got anywhere.

After Harvey had met the members of the Theatre-Go-Round company the other day, he lost no time in checking into the Hotel Warner, which assigned him the best suite in the house. In ten minutes he was out on the beach, splashing in the surf and waving his big floppy ears at the startled bathers. After he had dried and sunned himself, he headed for the business section and called on store after store to ask about all the kids in town and visit with the store managers. By reading the ads below you can see what Harvey had to say about the various places he visited. Sharp rabbit, this Harvey!

He gazed up the station wagon at Wade's Esso Service Center, had a lettuce sandwich with Carl Wise, got himself photographed at the Boice Studio (where his picture is now on display) and then stopped to chat with Bill Johnson. Being a hungry man-about-town, he lost no time in getting to Mrs. Moore's Bakery and helped himself to a couple of her delicious crullers. On the way out he stopped to admire the beautiful home furnishings in Dorothy White's windows.

Driving down Atlantic he waved at the girls in Creekmore's Beauty Salon, and the display of Whitman chocolates in Jard's made his mouth water again. The assortment of gifts at Denton's had him dizzy and he started taking notes of what he would buy for whom (the girls in his life, of course). When he saw the new Studebaker at Brooks-Shorter he wanted to scrap the company station wagon; the pretty beach chairs at Bileys' really caught his fancy; but the biggest hit of all was made by the carrot display at the Princess Anne Provision Company. When Harvey got through there was very little display left.

Then after saying hello to the folks at the Snow White Laundry, the Princess Anne Lumber Company, and the 31st St. Hardware Company, he hopped back to the blue and yellow tent and began his rehearsal with the company. (Incidentally Harvey is crazy about the theatre tent—says it's the first time in his life he's ever played under one.)

After his opening last night Harvey got a call from Mrs. Shelly to stop by her store this morning. The story of what took place there is told below in Mrs. Shelly's ad. When the paper went to press today, Harvey was once more at the beach sunning himself and still raving about the grand seafood at Marty's. He said he hoped everyone at the Beach would get by to see him at Theatre-Go-Round before his show was over. He is playing there nightly through next Wednesday. But already, Tuesday and Wednesday are SOLD OUT, so Harvey advises everyone to make reservations now; and preferably for Saturday or Sunday night.

A House Appropriations Committee study estimated that in one year the Federal Bureau of Internal Revenue printed 500 million tax forms and 110 million instruction sheets to supply 47 million taxpayers. Hundreds of millions of such forms, long out-dated and no longer useful, were found stored in a leased building.

Aberdeen-Angus Cattle soon As Popular Beef Type for Tidewater

"Southside Virginia, with its long growing season, mild winters and abundant rainfall provides ideal conditions for the raising of beef cattle. Improved types of frames and clovers have enabled this old historic section of Virginia to produce pastures second to none," reports Dave Canning, Aberdeen-Angus Association, Inc. "Aberdeen-Angus are becoming increasingly popular in this section, not only because of the high quality beef carcasses they produce, but the ease with which they are handled. Their complete lack of horns and high resistance to pink eye eliminate two of the bothersome disadvantages of the other breeds. The fact that Angus are bred to have neat, small heads and smoothly laid in hips enables them to have their calves with ease, requiring much less expert attention than some of the other breeds. Their hardiness and ability to stay outdoors in all kinds of weather is another factor important to the Southside farmer. Expensive barns are not necessary for this hardy breed that originated in Scotland. Many Southside farmers are just erecting lean-to sheds around old barns in which they store hay and the cattle are fed under these sheds in bad weather.

"The cow and calf business is often termed the safest division of beef cattle production. Of course this means that the farmer keeps a bull and a breeding herd of cows, then sells the calves at weaning time, or grows them out to market weight. For those who wish to be in the pure bred business, there is an established market for them in the annual sale already established in Petersburg each spring. The sale is sponsored by the Virginia Aberdeen-Angus Association and is open to all members of that association. The dues are only $5.00 per year for belonging to this organization. They employ a full-time fieldman-secretary, Dave Canning, whose headquarters is Charlottesville, Virginia. His services are available free of charge to anyone interested in starting herds of Angus, or who already have herds and need assistance in any way. For those who are interested in getting in the Angus business, Saturday, July 15, should be 'Opportunity Day' at the Southside Weekly Auction Barn, Petersburg, Virginia. B. A. Rucker, Jr., owner of Canterbury Farm, Eastham, Virginia, is dispersing the entire Dorsey Hall Farm herd, consisting of 100 head—110 lots—and featuring 70 cows with calves at side, 30 bred cows and heifers, and 12 yearling heifers. Anyone interested in adding to his herd, or in starting a herd, should be able to make some unusual buys here. Although all of these cattle are extremely well

Four Business Places Establish Parking Lot for Customers; Fills Long-Felt Need in Business Area

Several Hotels On Ocean Front Already Have Parking Lots

In order to relieve the crowded parking situation for shoppers in the 17th-19th Street section of Virginia Beach, four merchants have provided, on land being furnished by the Fuel, Feed and Building Supplies Corp., a free parking center for customers on Pacific Avenue between 18th and 19th Street.

The merchants are Harrold's Pharmacy, Urquhart's Bakery, the National Bank of Commerce, and Fuel and Feed.

An attendant will be on duty at all times during the day and customers of the shops involved may obtain free parking by presenting a coupon attesting that they have been to one or the other.

R. B. Taylor, of the Fuel-Feed firm, said that the parking situation had become so serious that shoppers were put to such inconvenience in finding parking space that something had to be done to alleviate the problem for them. Beachers and beach-goers provide the real hindrance, he added, by parking all day long in available spaces, crowding out the shoppers from spaces convenient to their destinations.

"We are glad that we have the land available to promote the free parking lot, and help Virginia Beach in combatting this problem that could grow to such proportions that it would hamper trade," Mr. Taylor added.

Send to Lot Parking

The new lot follows a trend that has been noted at Virginia Beach since the beginning of the season. Many of the hotels have provided parking lots conveniently located for their guests. Two of these are located on 18th and Arctic for the Tides Hotel and the Virginia Lee.

The town has named a traffic commission to work out with the police department ways and means of combatting the traffic and parking congestion on the streets in the business section.

Livestock Training School Scheduled At Camp Farrar

County Agent Asks Farmers Attend Sessions July 24-27

Livestock producers in the southeastern counties of Virginia will have an opportunity to attend the Livestock Training School at 4-H Camp Farrar, July 24 to 27.

This school will be divided into two parts each day; the mornings will be used to discuss the production of beef cattle, hogs and sheep, and the afternoon sessions will be used for field trips and actual demonstrations in deboning cattle, judging, etc. There will also be opportunity for swimming, pitching horseshoes, and other recreation.

"Interest in livestock production in eastern Virginia is increasing at a rapid rate," County Agent H. W. Ouelin said. "However, very few of our farmers understand the fundamentals of livestock production and for that reason it is believed that this school will be most valuable to anyone who desires to go into livestock production and make it profitable," he said.

"Interested farmers are urged to make plans to attend this school for the full period, that is, remaining overnight at the camp. However, those who cannot stay at night will be enrolled at only the cost of meals eaten at camp. All farmers interested in attending this school should contact me as soon as possible," Mr. Ouelin concluded.

1950 Wheat Price Support Set At $2.24 A Bushel

County Has Loan Rate of $2.21 Per Bushel for No. 1

Price support for the 1950 wheat crop in Virginia, averaging about $2.24 a bushel (four cents higher than last year), was announced this week by R. B. Bridgforth, State Committee Chairman of the Production and Marketing Administration.

The support level is set at 90 per cent of the parity price for wheat at the beginning of the marketing year, July 1, 1950, and is mandatory in accordance with the Agricultural Act of 1949, the chairman explained. The program is effected through loans and purchase agreements available to producers through January, 1951, on wheat stored on farms or in approved warehouses.

In Virginia, the basic support rate varies by counties from $2.18 to $2.26 per bushel, and in all cases is substantially higher in this state than the national average rate of $1.99 per bushel.

Loan rate for No. 1 wheat for Princess Anne County is $2.21 per bushel.

The terminal loan rates for 1950 wheat stored in eligible warehouses in Philadelphia, Baltimore, or Norfolk is $2.43 per bushel.

All loan rates are based on wheat grading U. S. No. 1 with certain discounts for other grades. Only wheat grading No. 3 or better, or No. 4 or No. 5 solely because of testweight, is eligible for price support. Likewise, to be eligible, wheat must have been produced within individual farm acreage allotments as determined by local FMA county committees.

With the harvest of Virginia's 1950 winter wheat crop nearing completion, Bridgforth said that substantial quantity is now being received at approved elevators in the state for storage under the price support program.

Last year 3,010 Virginia farmers placed 827,580 bushels of wheat (about one-tenth of the 1949 crop) under Government loans amounting to $1,762,908, at an average loan rate of $2.20 per bushel. According to Bridgforth the 1949 program enabled these 3,010 Virginia producers to realize an increased income well in excess of $350,000 more than that which they would have received by selling at harvest time when wheat prices are usually low.

Current crop reports, released by the State Division of Agricultural Statistics, indicates a 1950 wheat production in Virginia of 7,676,000 bushels. It realized, such a crop would be 12 per cent under last year's production and 4 per cent below the past ten-year average.

Softball Tourney Games Tonight, Saturday Night

Semi-finals and finals in the Virginia Beach Softball Tournament will be played tonight and tomorrow at the Playground. Time for games are: Friday, 7:30 and 9 p.m.; Saturday final, 8 p.m.

The tournament has been the object of widespread interest. Engineers, Mary Jane Bakers, Lept-North, NAS Jato, A. J. Park, Berkeley Baptists, Talbot Park Baptists, Naval Supply, NAS Flyers, and Campostella Methodists.

This is the third year that the sectional tournament has been played at the Beach Playground.

The Navy has discontinued its three year enlistments. Personnel must now sign up for either four or six years.

Unsanitary Hotels, Tourist Homes Closed At Beach

State Health Dept. Takes Action After Many Warnings

The State Health Department announced Wednesday it has closed three hotels, one motor court and 11 tourist homes in the Virginia Beach area during the past 10 days because of unsanitary conditions, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Richmond.

In addition, two applications for tourist home licenses have been refused for the same reason, according to James W. Smith, director of the Bureau of Tourist Establishment Registration.

All the establishments had their licenses revoked until August 1, when another inspection will be made to see if they have been brought up to standard, Smith said.

Two of the hotels, closed down last week, already have taken corrective measures on one floor and have been permitted to open for business on those floors only, Smith said.

He did not name the hotels, but said they aggregated 130 rooms with the largest having 65 rooms. The department declined to reveal the names of any of the establishments closed down.

The closings were an extreme measure taken after the establishments had been warned earlier in the season to clean up, Smith said. The ones which refused were closed.

In each case, Smith added, the owners had been given warnings last year that certain changes would have to be made. He listed unsanitary conditions, failure to change bed linen between customers and "general filth" as typical of the violations.

Food Bar, One-Day Flower Show Planned for Fair

Plans for the Princess Anne County Fair are progressing rapidly, and the fair will be an outstanding event, according to the executive committee from the two sponsoring clubs, the Woman's Club and the Ruritan Club.

All garden clubs and women's clubs in Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach are invited to participate in the flower show which will take place on Friday, September 8 at the fair.

This year the flower show will be for only one day. The exhibits will be a table setting, and the exhibitors are being given the privilege of selecting their own setting. It may be a breakfast, luncheon or dinner table, each exhibit being judged on its own merit.

A cash award will be made to the outstanding exhibits, and ribbons will be presented. Prominent judges have already been chosen and much enthusiasm is being shown, according to Mrs. H. O. Bernstrom, chairman of the flower show.

Any club in the town or county desiring to enter may do so by contacting Mrs. Bernstrom at Virginia Beach 1236-J or by calling Mrs. George Mulien, Virginia Beach 1167.

Food Bar
Something new has been added to the fair this year—a food bar. Mrs. Herman Bonney is chairman of the food bar and will be assisted by Mrs. Frank Pentress, Mrs. Cameron Menden and Mrs. Walter Menden. Visitors to the fair will be able to come, spend the day and enjoy such delicacies as home fried chicken, sandwiches, salads, home-made pies and cakes by the slice, and plenty of cool drinks. All the food served will be especially prepared and moderately priced.

State and Local Police Stage Widespread Raids; Clubs Called 'Common Nuisances'

Theatre-Go-Round Presenting "Papa Is All" for Week

Last night Theatre-Go-Round opened its fourth week of the summer season with its presentation of the delightful comedy about a Pennsylvania Dutch family that looked forward to life without father, "Papa Is All," by Patterson Greene. The play, staged arena-style by Jon Dawson, will continue nightly, including Sunday, through next Tuesday.

Unlike most comedies that deal with family life, Patterson Greene's "Papa Is All" presents a mother and two children who come to realize that something desperate must be done to remove Papa from society. For Papa is a thoroughly mean man who has scruples against any and all things that would give his family convenience or pleasure. Mama is forbidden a friendly association with neighbors, and daughter Emma prompts Papa's wrath by falling in love with a "foreigner."

—a surveyor who does not come from Lancaster County. Papa tells everybody in town that son Jake is not right in the head in order to prevent his getting a job on another farm in the area.

Not a soul in the Mennonite community is reluctant to hear Jake bring the news that Papa is "all"—dead and gone, that is—a way of speaking peculiar to this region of Pennsylvania. Papa does return, however, but not for long. What his fate is, and how finally Papa really is done in, unfolds in the third act of this wholesome comedy. Miss Lesley Savage, producer, has stressed that "Papa Is All" is a family show, to be seen by all the family.

Romeo Muller has the role of the tyrannical Papa, and Rica Martens is seen as the gentle Mama. Playing the son Jake is Joe Bush, who was last seen at Theatre-Go-Round as Danny in "Anna Lucasta." Marianne Duest is appearing as the daughter Emma, and Robert Philippe and Paulette San March complete the cast.

The play is set in the kitchen of the Aukamp family in Lancaster County, Pa., and special early American and Dutch props have been secured through the generous cooperation of several beach groups. Mrs. Cary Penington of 79th Street assisted the theatre staff this week in assembling the many props.

Local Draft Board To Call Thirteen Men August 4

Thirteen Princess Anne County young men will be called up for the draft on August 4, according to word from the Princess Anne County Draft Board.

The quota of 13 is expected to be filled if possible from the oldest age group, although the draft board declared that there are few eligible in this group since most are either married or saw service in World War II.

Notices will go out from the local board, of which Mrs. Vivian McCann is head.

The board has seen an upsurge of late registrations in recent weeks, with young men who passed their 18th birthdays some months ago coming in belatedly to sign up.

RUTH J. RIDDICK, DRAMATIC READER, APPEARS IN NEW YORK CITY RECITAL

Ye Beare and Ye Cubb To Present Special Preview

Ye Beare and Ye Cubb opens its summer season Sunday night, July 23, in the Panorama Room of the Cavalier Beach Club, with a special preview performance of the Philip King farce comedy, "See How They Run."

On Wednesday, July 26, the same play will start a five day run at Ye Beare and Ye Cubb Theatre on 17th Street and Atlantic Avenue, opening a six weeks summer program of comedy.

This particular performance of the play will be by invitation only. Regular public performances will begin on Thursday, July 27, and continuing through Sunday, July 30.

The theatre, the old Roland, has been remodeled to accommodate legitimate stage productions. The stage has been doubled in size, new seats have been installed, and the building has been equipped with air cooling for the comfort of summer audiences.

"See How They Run" is rollicking good humor. So swift is the action, so involved the situations, so rib-tickling the plot that at its finish audiences are left as exhausted from laughter as though they themselves had run a foot-race. Galloping in and out of an English vicarage are an American actor and actress, played by Maury Oren and Janet McClure; a cockney maid (Jane Gregory), who has seen too many American movies; an old maid (Leslie Thackeray), who teaches school for the first time in her life; and four men in clerical suits presenting the problem of which is which, for disguised as one is an escaped prisoner (Sam Poole), and another a sedate bishop (Joseph Lee Frieden), aghast at all these goings-on and the trumped-up stories that are told him.

Tickets for the Beach Club performance may be procured at the transportation desk at the Cavalier Hotel or at the reception desk in the lobby of the Beach Club. Tickets for all performances at Ye Beare and Ye Cubb Theatre may be obtained at the theatre's box office, or at the News Centre, 23rd Street and Atlantic Avenue.

Certain time for all performances will be at 8:40 o'clock.

Older 4-H'ers Asked To Attend Institute, Special Farrar Camp

Two state-wide events of interest to older 4-H and farmer club members are being planned by the Extension Service for this summer.

A camp for older rural youth will be held at Camp Farrar, Virginia Beach, on August 17-20. The camp will open with supper on Thursday, August 17, and close with the noon meal on Sunday, August 20. The camp is for those who are 18 to 30 years of age.

The camp program will include instruction in program planning for rural young people's groups, discussion methods, recreation leadership, and hobbies and handicrafts. In addition there will be plenty of opportunity for swimming, fishing, sports and other recreation.

The camp will be limited to 150 people and advanced registrations are required.

The Rural Youth Section of the Institute of Rural Affairs will be held August 2-4 on the V. P. I. campus, August 2-4. The program for this section of the Institute is planned to be of interest to rural young men and women between the ages of 18 and 30 years and for older people who are working with or interested in the problems of this age group.

Most Places Raided Not Mentioned In Grand Jury Report

The largest mass raid on hot spots in Princess Anne County is many years which last Thursday at midnight netted 25 arrests in 13 clubs was backed up on Tuesday midnight by a "follow-up raid" that brought in seven additional arrests made in two clubs and at the place of business of two of Virginia Beach's well-known "package whiskey" salesmen.

Clubs raided were: Piney Point Club, Ciro's Club, 58, Colonial Club, the Arcade News "Smoke Shop," Jo-Joe's Club, the Cabana Club, Two O'clock Club, Melody Inn (formerly Harry's The Spot), Latin Quarter, Oasis Club, and the Checkerboard Club. The first seven clubs were not mentioned in the recent report and indictments by the special grand jury called June 27 to investigate charges of gambling and illegal sales of whiskey in the county. Of the others, the operators of the two, Two O'clock, the Cabana, and the Spot were indicted by the grand jurors as maintaining a common nuisance, and three on other charges.

In the Tuesday raid, the Dunes Club, the Two O'clock Club, and the Oasis Club were hit, along with Tony's Garage and the establishment of Arthur Miller. At the Two O'clock Club no violations were found, although it, along with the Oasis figured in the larger Friday night raid.

Arcade News in Police Court
James J. Miller, operator of the Arcade News Shop on 17th Street, was fined $50 and costs and gambling equipment ordered destroyed in Police Court Tuesday night by Judge Eugene V. Greenham. The charges were the outgrowth of the raids by ABC officers. In addition, Miller faces State charges on illegal sales of whiskey and aiding and abetting and maintaining a common nuisance.

Carried out by ABC Board officers, assisted by the Alcohol Tax Unit, county and town police, the raids were the result of some five weeks of undercover work by ABC investigators.

THE PUBLIC IS OUR EDITOR

This week, in place of our regular editorials we are publishing below a few of the letters to the editor which we have received. We want our readers to learn what other readers are feeling, and we offer them these examples rather than reiterating our stand on the controversial subjects we have gone into in recent months.

It is the News' policy to publish letters to the editor as they come to us, provided that the name and address of the sender accompanies each. We will withhold the name of the writer whenever he indicates that it is desirable.

The News will publish these letters, even though they do not subscribe necessarily to our views and even though we disagree with them. Furthermore, we have had recently to keep others from print because they were obviously signed by names that are not the writers.

Here are the letters:

Mr. Editor:

Please allow me space in your newspaper to congratulate Police Chief Reeves Johnson for his detective work in ferreting out three slot machines that he now has doubt been being operated illegally.

From the recent report of the Princess Anne Grand Jury and my own personal knowledge, I am sure that there are more than 100 illegally operated slot machines in Virginia Beach, or were up to the time the grand jury was called in special session, yet Chief Johnson did not find one of these illegally operated slot machines.

We were told through the local newspapers that Chief Johnson is a graduate of the F. B. I. School. His special training is now paying us taxpayers dividends and let me suggest to our City Fathers that they return our Chief to the F. B. I. School for a refresher course. I certainly would not object to contributing my bit. It no doubt would help him in his work.

He might find one of the dozens of hip joints (white and colored) operating here, a slot machine that he does not have doubt about its being operated illegally, one of the number writers, since we have so many (they are seen, one, two, three at a time at places where several people are employed during their lunch hour), one of 5 bingo games with their $2.00 to $100.00 jackpots (these bingo games are illegal; at least Norfolk City Attorneys have recently given an opinion that they are), he might find a place where you can bet your money on the results of the horse races, with their shining slot machines, crap and blackjack tables, and finally how about the big gambling places, where they have roulette wheels, crap and many other games. Yes, I certainly feel that a refresher course for Chief Johnson at the F. B. I. School is the answer.

Now seriously, if Chief Johnson is still in doubt as to the legality of the slot machines he has removed from three places on the Beach, and he will guarantee to summon the persons whose names I will give to the Editor of the Virginia Beach News, before the Trial Justice Court on the day of trial of the proprietors of the places where these machines were removed, I will give the Editor the names of players, addresses and the amounts won at the time these machines were played.

However, if he will ask the proprietors of the places where these slot machines were in operation, they will save him the trouble, as I know of two admitting that these slot machines paid off, they will tell him the date the large sign was put on these machines (that they were to be operated for pleasure only).

For the following reasons I sign my name "Average Tax Payer":

First, I do not want to be called up on the telephone and threatened.

Second, I do not want to be held up on Atlantic Avenue by four men in a Jeep and told to get out of town and stay out.

Third, I do not want to be boycotted, then I would have to leave town or be starved.

Signed:

AVERAGE TAX PAYER

The Editor:

Last week a brick was thrown from this corner and the timely state enforcement officers' report of evidence gathered against Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County vice spots indicates that this missile "bulls-eyed." It is much easier, however, to throw a brick than to lay one and the purpose of this communication is to attempt the harder task.

All with interests meshed in organized crime either ostensibly within the law or beyond it are obviously angle shooters. This letter is not addressed to them for they have forfeited their right to an opinion. To all others who might wonder what my angle is, kindly be informed that like most residents at Virginia Beach in the past—official or otherwise—I winked at the home grown or garden variety of petty vice prevalent until recently. But when vice snow-balled into its present awesome state, prodded by the talk rife along the main stem and with thoughts of what was to happen to my children and yours, the die was cast.

If you think "killjoy" is an enviable role you are vastly mistaken. By nature reasonably convivial, the warmth of friendliness now conspicuous by its absence in some quarters leaves a stage of confusion, but that is a small penalty to pay if my effort will help prevent a personal Pearl Harbor for some one. Unless "We the People," do something about it and soon, a mother, daughter, sister, brother, father, son or sweetheart will become tragically defuncted in the time. The atomic explosion of righteous wrath to follow will come too late.

Aside from this stalking tragedy, I no longer can stand idly by because the line here between morality and immorality has become so blurred or entirely obliterated that there is nothing left for an observing child to steer by. Whether petty gambling or drinking is immoral "per se" is not for me to tell; that lies within the province of your own conscience and the guidance of your sky pilot—but if it be, I plead guilty to immorality. The prattle, however, about educational bond issues and justice under law, the piety of Sunday School, Bible class and church, and the 700 Boy Scouts now at V. F. L., studying the foundation of our form of Government and emulating democracy in the motion, all become a hollow mockery when interpreted as in this town and county which have not only prostituted the laws of the Commonwealth but have repealed the Constitution of the United States, and Bible as well.

The best clothes, largest automobiles, torn-up traffic tickets and other political favors go to whom? To an impressionable child "Crime does pay," for here on all sides it appears to. Other wishes may be mine, but not a single sport shirt, ring, cadillac hub cap do I cover nor any office from parking meter collector to bus man, nor from counsellor to Governor, and though I am sure that at times I cross the line of morality the course must be marked for my children's navigation.

By heritage and training my concept is: The law, obey it; if it unreasonably bites, change it. In any event, if broken, pay the prescribed penalty.

All of us know the necessity of depositories for poisonous body wastes; if the same be true of soul poison, the front porch, living room and dining room is no more place for it than with the cesspool of the former. Our town's key action is seeking. Why talk of cleaning up table refuse and eliminating weeds from vacant lots when spiritual garbage roars a stench in the market place. In the language of the playing field, organized crime and loose government have ganged up to overwhelm Mr. Average Citizen. Now at last, they are running wildly on feet balls, and conscience-defuncted umpires are letting them get away with it. The taxpayers in the stands, because of fear, complacency, and having been bludgeoned into insensibility by repeated beatings, are largely accepting the decision.

The three counts are immorality, lawlessness and lack of decency.

Why did I appeal to the State's Executive?

This alarming situation was discussed with one of the town officials, whom I believe was, and probably still is, sincerely disturbed by conditions. It would be difficult to understand if he weren't, for with two lovely children, he has much at stake. I realized that as nothing happened, the last was too much for any single person except the Governor, who with the word, STOP, can put an end to it. It was with regret and humility that the decision had to be reached, for Virginia Beach has been not unkind to me. To find, despite man's evolution, that decency has been forced underground within a few miles of that hallowed spot which marked the birth of our nation with the planting of the cross at Cape Henry in 1607 by Robert Hunt is more than I can take lying down. Not individually, necessarily, but as citizens Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County are legally and spiritually bankrupt.

Prior to putting the letter to the Governor an inspection was made of it by our varied in facts and with a shake in the community and also by your director of the Chamber of Commerce—not for endorsement, but to check factual statement therein. Not one question about these facts was raised by either.

There is no guiney that the man on the street, by and large, feels there is a need for types of movement contrary to our state laws. I do not subscribe to this thesis because most of the money spent illicitly does not find its way into the coffers of the hoodlums and merchants, but merely swells the ill-gotten gains of the lawless. Let us suppose, however, that the proposition be accepted that because the Beach is a resort some winking at the law is expedient. It

It is well to remember that Atlantic Avenue is the "highway" for only twelve weeks of the year, after which the curbed sidewalks and the thoroughfare for the following forty weeks is a small town's main street—yours and mine.

Our problem is whether to try the well-nigh impossible and change the vice laws or whether these State statutes are to be liberally violated for twelve weeks annually by the home-grown, garden variety of operators. (Organized crime must go!) If so, is it possible to separate the rule from the rule without taking the chaos from both and then having to start over? The rule person who can condone the "chaos of protection" and unman the gears with one word is your Governor. To those who talk of the necessity for protecting their investments, I say, with all reverence, there is only one real investor at Virginia Beach—GOD, with his hand, arm and sea. The heirs to these are our children's children. Sincerely yours, J. WELLS COX DOWNS

Virginia Beach News
Dear Sir:

A few afternoons ago—Thursday, I believe—I was standing in the doorway of our warehouse on 19th Street and happened to turn my eyes in the direction of Atlantic Avenue and imagine my surprise when there stood in front of the Jefferson Hotel a large freight bus, the cab of which was enveloped in flames. In a few seconds the emergency car of the fire department came past where I was standing. I watched the driver, as far as I can tell, it heavily approached the truck when there was a great clanging of the constant tank exploding and the fire was over. We are, indeed, fortunate to have such an efficient fire department at Virginia Beach. These men risk their lives and limbs every day for us but because they consider it all in a day's work detracts not one whit from their bravery.

Yours very truly,

To the Editor,
Virginia Beach News
Dear Sir:

The enclosed editorial in the New York Herald Tribune, under date of June 15, 1959, entitled "Littering and the Law," shows what can be accomplished when the law is enforced.

Strenuous efforts have been made in previous years to bring about a cleaner and "more beautiful Princess Anne" (slogan of the Princess Anne Garden Club), and to clean up the "dump piles" and the approaches to Virginia Beach and in the county.

As this is the "tourist season" and Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County are playing host to thousands of visitors, it appears to me there is no reason why we too should not greet them, for a change, with a clean face. It can be done here if "Littering and the Law" is enforced. Very truly yours,

ELIZABETH GREGORY HILL
President, The Princess Anne Garden Club

The editorial:

Littering and the Law
There is a law against littering the streets of New York. It is a law that comparatively few people know about, but which is being advertised by a very effective means—handing out summonses to violators. On Tuesday 100 Sanitation Department inspectors walked the streets of the city handing out 371 summonses—an all-time record. Through the month of February, when a similar drive was put on, more than 1,000 violators of the Sanitation Department code paid $2 fines for trespassing against health and cleanliness.

Now, there is no getting around the fact that throwing waste paper on the street, or on the floor of a subway train, or from the window of an automobile, is one of the easiest acts known to man. Slothfulness and indifference have led to its acceptance by millions of our citizens. People who wouldn't dream of tolerating dirt in their own homes find no difficulty in disregarding it on the public streets. The Sanitation Department has been conducting a widespread educational campaign to make people conscious of the need and desirability for cleanliness in the streets. In time it will show results, but there is nothing to speed the progress up like a little prodding in the form of summonses to a careless citizen. We are entering upon a summer in which the city will be host to thousands of tourists and visitors; there is no reason why we should not greet them, for a change, with a clean face. It will speed the process enormously if people know that every time they drop a paper an inspector will be ready to hand them another one bearing a notice to appear in court.

A speed violation is a contributing factor in one out of every three fatal traffic accidents, according to the National Safety Council. Here's a good vacation tip—the faster you go the harder you hit.

Enclosed copy of night letter to Hon. Louis Johnson, Secretary Combined Chiefs of Staff, Washington, D. C.:

"Persons or persons responsible for stationing in any part of the World armed forces under our Colors not properly trained or armed or not large enough to cope with any threat or action that might arise are largely to blame for any losses among those forces and reflect on our Country's honor and should be replaced immediately. Experience purchased so costly at Corregidor and Beaufort is apparently forgotten. The Kremlin is probably laughing at the debacle in Korea. I wish this statement given the widest publication."

Quite a crop!

In 1949 this Company added almost 6,500 telephones in the rural areas of Virginia. To do this, we had to raise more than 10,000 telephone poles and string more than 3,500 miles of wire. We also installed a lot of additional equipment in our central offices.

Do not disturb

It's a good policy not to interrupt on your telephone party line, too. Hanging up gently when you find the line in use is almost certain to get you the same kind of treatment from your neighbors. And that neighborly co-operation applies to an emergency, too, with anyone on the line ready and willing to hang up quickly.

The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia.

"We'll call as soon as we arrive home"
Fulfilling that reassuring promise is made possible only because thousands of miles of telephone channels are at your immediate disposal—wherever you are, at any time of the night or day. This fast, dependable Long Distance service is yours to enjoy at low cost.

Leont (1st) and Mrs. Walter Noboy and young son, who have been visiting Mrs. Noboy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Cullfield, on 75th Street, left Tuesday to spend some time with Leont Noboy's mother, Mrs. Hugh Hancock, in Bluefield, W. Va.

Mrs. W. B. DeBans has returned to her home in Raleigh, N. C., after spending a few days at the Cavalier Hotel.

Mrs. Russell Hayden, of Crozet, Va., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Charles Doughtie, at her cottage on 78th Street.

Miss Timberlake Chooses August 23 for Marriage to Mr. Battle

Miss Nancy Curtis has returned to Norfolk after spending the week-end with Miss Lois Sessions at her home in Cavalier Park.

The Rt. Rev. and Mrs. H. C. George Tucker, of Richmond, Va., are spending some time at the Myers cottage.

John Mumford, of Richmond, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Peyton May at their home in Bay Colony.

An interesting wedding of the mid-summer season will be that of Miss Charlotte Jordan Timberlake, daughter of Comdr. Julian Timberlake, Jr., USN, ret., and Mrs. Timberlake, of Virginia Beach and Cottendale Plantation, N. C. Miss Timberlake has chosen Wednesday, August 23, for her marriage to Thomas Braswell Battle, of Rocky Mount, N. C. The ceremony will take place at 8:30 o'clock at night in the Calles Episcopal Church, Virginia Beach.

Miss Timberlake has selected for her maid of honor Miss Mary Pratt, of Gloucester. Mrs. Hyman Battle, Jr., of Princeton, N. J., sister-in-law of the bridegroom-elect, will be matron of honor. The bridesmaids will include Misses Elizabeth Lee Hitch, of Norfolk; Mary Ogdon McCurdy, of Philadelphia; Joan Watters, of Buffalo, N. Y.; Noel Marvin, of Louisville, Ky.; Betty Brooke Morris, of Roanoke, and Grace Olin Jordan, of Virginia Beach, cousin of the bride-elect.

Hyman Battle, Jr., of Princeton, will be best man for his brother. The groomsmen will be Julian Timberlake, III, of Montclair, N. J., brother of the bride-elect; Charles H. Slingsuff, Jr., of Alantown; Lewis Thorp, of Rocky Mount, N. C.; Winniett Peters, of Wilson, N. C.; Theodores Devienne, of Larchmont, N. Y.; James Fish, of Seranton, Pa., and William Gwathmey, of Baltimore, Md.

Miss Sally Christian, of Lexington, Va., is the guest of Miss Susan Wilson at her summer home in Bay Colony.

PRUDENT ADVICE

Franklin D. Roosevelt (in 1932) said: "Any government like any family, can for a year spend a little more than it earns. But you and I know that a continuance of that habit means the poorhouse."

"Scuttlebutt" has two meanings: stories; gossamer; a drinking fountain or rumors or gossip heard around the drinking fountain.

Records of the National Safety Council show that about 1,500 persons drown in each of the months of June, July and August. Watch you get in the vacation swim, be careful.

Make your car RIDE QUIETER

Rosemary Ashby, David Dashiell Married Saturday in Norfolk

The marriage of Miss Rosemary Ashby, daughter of the late Joseph Benton Ashby and Mrs. Blanche Lambert Ashby, to David Armstrong Dashiell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. David Armstrong Dashiell, took place Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Christ and St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Norfolk.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Paul Chaplin, assistant rector of the church, in the presence of relatives and friends. The altar was decorated with white gladioli and lighted candles and George W. Vail, organist of the church, played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Warren Rockwell Lambert. She wore a wedding gown of ivory satin, fashioned with a round neckline with bertha of rose point lace, basque bodice and full pleated skirt forming a full length train. Her full length veil of imported illusion, with a short over-veil edged in rose point lace, fell from a bonnet of matching lace, and she carried a Mayfair bouquet of Pleur d'amour and stephanotis.

Mrs. Robert Palmer Trice, of Richmond, was matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Mary Louise Holton, of Toledo, Ohio; Miss Joan Williams, Miss Norma Tullie Greene and Miss Elizabeth Middleton Dashiell, sister of the bridegroom. All the attendants wore gowns of blue marquisette over tulle, fashioned with portrait necklines, basque bodices and bouffant skirts. They wore matching half hats trimmed in natural flowers and carried Mayfair bouquets of pastel flowers.

Dr. Waverly Berkley Dashiell, of Charlottesville, was best man for his brother and the groomsmen were Edward Wallace Wolcott, Harry Ellington McCoy, Jr., Roy Butler Martin, Jr., and Wilfred Ferguson, Jr.

Mrs. Lloyd Lambert, maternal grandmother of the bride, wore a gray lace gown and a purple orchid corsage. Mrs. Dashiell, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of aqua crepe and chiffon and a lavender orchid corsage.

After the ceremony a reception was given at the Princess Anne Country Club. Later Mr. and Mrs.

Dashiell left for a wedding trip to Bermuda and upon their return they will spend the remainder of the summer on Old Street. The bride traveled in a cream brown silk suit with white accessories and a corsage of Cambasiana orchids.

CHURCH—Continued

The marriage of Miss Catherine Elaine Leonard, daughter of Miss Louisa C. Hall of Virginia Beach, and the late George Calvin Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin V. Smith, of Virginia Beach, took place Monday evening, July 14, at Kempsville. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. H. Stewart, of the Kempsville Baptist Church.

Mrs. Mary Sawyer was mistress of honor and J. Everett Sawyer was best man.

You can manage Better with a Freezer

It's SMART to own a freezer! It's like having a super-market right in your kitchen... a storage locker for commercially frozen foods... a store that never closes.

You can save extra portions and "left overs" that your family can enjoy next month instead of next day.

You'll save money too... easily 3% to 5% on food budgets and on seasonal foods such as fruits, vegetables, beef, you can save as much as 20% to 30% by buying in quantity when supply is plentiful and prices are low.

You'll save 35¢ to $1.00 every week by making fewer trips to market.

And—you can save 2 to 3 hours a week in shopping, cooking and baking time. You can be a cook for a day—a queen for a week!

There are styles and sizes to fit every family's needs.

Committees Announce Special Features for Four Day Fair

Parade To Mark Opening Day of County Fair

$25 Prize, Ribbons To Be Awarded Best Floats in Parade

A $25 cash award will be given as a prize, in addition to ribbons, for the most attractive float entered in the parade which will mark the opening of the Princess Anne County Fair. The parade will begin at 5:30 in the afternoon on Wednesday, September 6. All civic organizations, fire departments, boy scout troops, school bands and various other clubs throughout the county have been invited to participate. Anyone desiring to enter a float and compete for the grand prize may do so by contacting William Kellam, grand marshal for the parade, or by calling Mrs. R. F. Trant, Jr., secretary of the Fair.

The Fair will be held at Seaside Park and will begin on Wednesday, September 6, continuing through Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Mrs. R. H. Owen announces that there will be a square dance in the ballroom on Saturday evening and that a cash prize will be given the most appropriately dressed person and a prize for the second best dressed.

A special fashion showing will be held on Sunday afternoon, September 10. Mrs. Alice Brewer White, woman's director for radio station WTAR, has been in New York lining up fashions and outstanding celebrities who will model the latest for midday's fall and winter wardrobe.

The food bar, which is a new addition to the fair this year, will appeal to everyone in attendance, according to Mrs. Herman Bonney, chairman. She and her committee, composed of Mrs. Frank Pentress, Mrs. Cameron Menden and Mrs. Walter Menden, are already busy planning for the best there is to eat. It is understood that they will serve fried chicken, chicken salad sandwiches, homemade pie and cake by the slice, which will make it possible for families to spend the day and have plenty of home prepared food.

A white elephant booth, headed by Mrs. John Bell, is planned. Plenty of free entertainment is planned and a special door prize will be given away each evening. Elaborate fire-works are scheduled for a bang-up good ending to the fair.

Those desiring information on entering exhibits or any other details may contact Mrs. George T. Mullin, at Virginia Beach 1167, who is general chairman, representing the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County, or V. Alfred Etheridge, of the Ruritan Club.

Ye Beare and Ye Cubb Theatre Presents "See How They Run"

Ye Beare and Ye Cubb on Wednesday evening came to Virginia Beach and its new theatre on 17th Street with a wacky comedy and an enthusiastic cast in "See How They Run."

While the talented youngsters have a long way to go to achieve all of the professional splendor it takes to put on the best performance, they nevertheless put on an entertaining show that moved the large audience to rounds of applause.

Outstanding were Leona Thackston, as Miss Skiffon, Jane McClure, as Penelope Toop, and Mary Owen, as Olive. Other performers entered into the spirit of the situation to bring plenty of life to the already sparkling comedy.

Art Exhibition At County Fair Will Include Ceramics

The art exhibition, educational and cultural feature of the Princess Anne County Fair, this year will add a new feature, a ceramic display, to the usual display of painting and sculpture.

The exhibition is open to all adults and children of Princess Anne County. The dividing line between the classes is 16 years of age. All exhibits submitted by persons 16 years and older will be judged in the adult class. Prizes will be awarded in the two classes.

The rules for the art exhibition are as follows: black and white drawings, pastels, oils, sculpture and ceramics may be entered; work must be original (this means no copies of other drawings, paintings or sculptures will be accepted); and also, the work submitted must not have been exhibited at the fair last year.

Work submitted for exhibit must be delivered to the fair and must be called for at the close of the exhibition by the exhibitor.

The second Princess Anne County Fair will be held September 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10 at Seaside Park and is being sponsored by the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County and the Princess Anne Ruritan Club.

Literary Contest of County Fair Open To County Residents

Do you have a knack for writing or even just a little "fair"? If so, you are invited to enter the Princess Anne County Fair's Literary Contest.

You may write a play, a poem, a short story, a newspaper editorial or article, a prose composition, or a radio script. The Princess Anne County Fair, sponsored by the Woman's Club and the Ruritan Club, is offering cash prizes for the best original compositions entered. The only requirement to enter is that you must be a resident of Princess Anne County.

So get busy! Don't feel that just because you have not written much before you'll not enter, for the purpose of the contest is to encourage literary effort.

Mail your entry to Mrs. W. C. Everett, 3703 Atlantic Avenue, Literary Chairman for the Fair.

4-H's Offered Prizes for Best Craft Articles

Six prizes, totaling $45.00, are offered in Virginia for the best articles made by 4-H Club members.

The articles are due in the State 4-H Club Office, V. P. I., Blacksburg, Virginia, by August 16. Club officials say the prize winning articles will become a part of a permanent educational crafts exhibit for the department. They will be available as a loan exhibit to counties and 4-H clubs. All other entries will be returned to the owners.

County entries will be limited to one article made by a boy and one by a girl. A certificate will be presented to each local club conducting a recreational program worthy of a blue award rating, and recognition cards will be given all members of each blue award club. In addition, a $35.00 cash award for the purchase of recreational equipment will be given each county—up to a maximum of 20 counties—naming a blue award group of 4-H clubs.

Trips to National Club Congress in Chicago in November will be given two 4-Hers excelling in recreational leadership from the 14-state Southern Extension Section.

County Police Activity Shows Increase in 1950

Chief Mapp Gives Yearly Report to Board of Supervisors

Police activity in 1950 in the county department, under the direction of Chief Ivan Mapp, has shown an increase of approximately 75 per cent over the year 1949, according to the detailed report of the department submitted Monday to the County Board of Supervisors.

The increase is partially accounted for by the enlargement of the county police force.

The record shows an increase of 33 cases of felonious assault in 1950 over 1949, and an increase of 20 cases of simple assault. Figures of interest are: auto crimes, from 261 to 402; break-ins, 174 to 207; drunkenness, 76 to 191; disorderly conduct, 89 to 123; domestic relations, 91 to 123; hit and run accidents, 13 to 43; persons investigated, 148 to 362; stolen property (bonds, motors, etc.), 63 to 112.

Crimes showing decreases are: stolen automobiles, 91 to 89; petit larceny, 16 to 4; rape, 38 to 13; robbery, 70 to 81.

The report shows that police handled 4 cases of attempted suicide in 1949 and 10 in 1950; 20 actual suicides in 1949, and seven in 1950.

There were 24,965 radio messages dispatched during the fiscal year 1950, an average of 68 per day, Chief Mapp said.

Supervisors Amend 'Clientele Advertising' Ordinance; Seek to Curb Building Along Route 60

'Born Yesterday' Now Playing At Theatre-Go-Round

The two coveted roles in Theatre-Go-Round's presentation of the smash Broadway comedy hit, "Born Yesterday," which was given its first showing in Virginia last night, went to Lesley Savage, who is seen as Billie Dawn, the ex-chorus girl with more glamour than grammar, and Romeo Muller, playing the roughneck war profiteer who thinks the donation of a milk coat has given him a lifetime claim on her. Miss Savage, with her husband Robert O'Flaherty, is co-producer of Theatre-Go-Round.

These are the roles that first captivated Judy Holliday and Paul Douglas to stardom and film fame when "Born Yesterday" began its fabulous four-year run in New York.

This Garson Kamm comedy tells how a junk dealer, grown fabulously rich and overbearing through wartime deals, comes to the most expensive hotel in Washington to make sure that the Senator on his payroll puts through the legislation he wants for his greedy plans. He brings, along with his permanently drunk lawyer and a few other assorted scoundrels, a brazen trollop he extracted from a chorus line, and the crafty sniping of these two at each other provides some of the most joyfully amusing lines of the modern stage.

The main plot shows the results of the bullying junkman's decision to make his feminine companion more presentable for his social contacts by having a high-brow magazine writer tutor her. From the junkman's point of view, the results are terrible. While the magazine writer teaches Billie Dawn some big words and small graces, she educates him along other lines. Worse still, she learns not only the big words but also some big ideas that bring on many hilarious complications.

Mr. O'Flaherty appears as the reporter who teaches the diary red-head to think, and Jon Dawson is the junkman's disillusioned and high-priced lawyer. Mr. Dawson is also directing the presentation. In other roles in the large cast are Rita Martens, Paulette San Marchi, Robert Phillips, Joe Bush, Charles Cagle, and Thelma Galling, and other members of the Theatre-Go-Round company. The company will give six performances of "Born Yesterday," nightly, including Sunday, through Tuesday. All performances begin at 8:40 P. M.

Strickler Named Oceana Principal; Succeeds Owen

M. P. Strickler, of Narrows, has been named principal of Oceana High School, F. W. Cox, superintendent of Princess Anne County Schools, announced Monday.

Mr. Strickler succeeds R. H. Owen, who has been appointed to an administrative position by the school board.

The new principal is a native of Augusta County. He is a graduate of Hampden-Sydney College and holds an M. S. degree from the University of Virginia. He also has done graduate work at the College of William and Mary.

He has served as principal of the Effinger and Natural Bridge high schools in Rockbridge County, and for the past three years has been supervising principal of the schools in Narrows.

Mr. Strickler is expected to report for duty at Oceana sometime next week. He is married and has three children.

Board to Meet With Highway Officials to Seek More Mileage

The Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors on Monday passed in an amended form an ordinance which would prohibit advertising in circulars, billboards, and newspapers within the county tending to discriminate against any creed or race except that which is already provided by law.

Originally the proposed ordinance prohibited any wording on advertising such as "Christian Clientele" or "Restricted Clientele." However, after hearing W. R. Ashburn, representing undischarged clients, and J. Wesley Gardner, owner-manager of the Martha Washington Hotel, the supervisors amended the ordinance to permit use of "restricted clientele" or similar wording.

Mr. Ashburn pointed out that the supervisors would find that the ordinance would be in violation of Sec. 1 of the Bill of Rights of the State of Virginia. He declared that it is not the desire of the hotels and hostilities to discriminate against any race or creed, but that they did want the opportunity of informing prospective guests of the type of clientele to whom they cater.

The supervisors have set the second Monday of August, at 1:30, for a meeting with representatives of the State Highway Department to discuss the county's allocation for secondary road mileage. At present, under a state-wide formula the county is restricted to the addition of but one per cent of the total secondary mileage annually. This amount, which under present conditions is 9.1 miles, is insufficient for the county's needs, the supervisors believe.

A committee from the county body visited State Highway officials two weeks ago to put the problem to them, and it was the agreement of that meeting that the Highway Department will send a group to confer with the supervisors on the situation.

The supervisors agreed to recommend to the State that 12 miles of road from Virginia Beach to Sand Bridge be taken into the state system to link the resort to the new proposed Coastal Road, but only if the mileage is not applied to the secondary mileage allowed to the county.

The board appropriated $500 for the annual Princess Anne County Fair being sponsored by the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County and the Princess Anne Ruritan Club.

The board also passed in tentative form an amendment to an ordinance prohibiting the building of any structures on land within 75 feet of the western right-of-way of Atlantic Avenue (Route 60). The amendment looks toward the abandonment of tracks of the Norfolk Southern Railway, and the possibility that houses, or a housing development will be built on the site of the present tracks.

Supervisors declared that eventually it would be necessary to widen the avenue, one of the main access roads to Virginia Beach, and that it is wise to look in the future before construction on the adjacent land is begun.

A zoning ordinance was passed on first reading for the area between Long Creek and Broad Bay and Lighthouses Bay. Types of building and restrictions on commercial building after are included.

BUCK'S REAL ESTATE FIRM HAS NEW ASSOCIATES
William B. Lumberton and Mrs. Doris Blackburn are now associated with Buck's Real Estate Firm, with offices located on Atlantic Avenue near 19th Street, according to an announcement by W. B. "Duck" Blackburn.

WHAT PRICE HONOR?

Developments which followed in the wake of the recent grand jury hearings have posed an interesting philosophical problem—one applicable to the very foundations of our democratic way of life.

Let us examine the facts, first.

On June 27, a special grand jury was called to study reports of widespread gambling and illegal whiskey sales. Twenty-nine witnesses were subpoenaed to appear before the body, were duly sworn in with the oath "to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help me God."

In the course of time, the grand jury reported with indictments against 23 individuals, the majority of whom were said to be guilty of the possession of slot machines. Furthermore, unknown to the general public, the ABC enforcement officers were at this same time conducting an undercover investigation which resulted in arrests in some 16 clubs in the county and Virginia Beach.

These last two facts should prove that there was behind the reports which prompted the calling of the grand jury a solid basis of truth, although the indictments brought by the jurors have not yet been tried in court.

Now, let us examine a second statement, which we believe to be irrefutable.

It is the duty of each citizen to uphold the law, and strive to render to his community and its laws the same allegiance in the way of truthfulness and honor as he does to his immediate family and friends.

Now comes the aftermath of a desire to see that law and order emerge victorious over greed and power hunger:

1. One man who testified was asked to give up certain privileges as one of the country clubs.

2. A second found that on Monday following the grand jury's report he had lost in the neighborhood of 25 accounts for his product. The driver of his delivery truck was threatened, and fearing for his personal safety, asked to be transferred to other territory. Now this man, so far as our knowledge goes, did not have his name affixed by the Commonwealth's Attorney to a single one of the 40 indictments brought. Therefore, whatever he had to say remains a mystery (it says here). The nature of his testimony, whether derogatory, or full of praise, is the property of the members of the grand jury, and the grand jury only. Yet somehow, those 25 customers were told "hands off to his product." He had the effrontery, it seems, to be unafraid to tell the truth.

3. A membership organization made up of representative men in Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County was asked to transfer its supper meetings elsewhere than the American Legion Club because one of its members was objectionable to the club. This man had, it seemed, been subpoenaed and had taken seriously his oath to "tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth." This man is also a veteran of the War, and hence eligible for membership in the American Legion Club.

Are these enough examples of the kind of reprisals being made against those who testified before the grand jury? There are others.

The grand jury made much of the fact that none came forward voluntarily to testify. A local newspaper also played up that fact loudly.

Please, gentlemen, in view of the foregoing examples of the playful attitude taken toward anyone who has the courage to exercise his American prerogative of speaking the truth, of daring to be honorable, please, sir, do you think that many would come forward voluntarily?

The American Legion is an organization to foster Americanism and the American way of life by the men who have fought for the principles that our United States stands for. The action taken by the local Legion is scarcely a shining example of that!

God help us! What have we let ourselves in for? A dictatorship by a group of power-hungry and greedy individuals who cannot stand to face the truth?

This is not Communist Russia. This is not Hitler Germany. Why do people fear to speak the truth and stand for the truth? Why must honest men suffer because they have had the courage to denounce lawlessness and license?

Don't laugh, you who think it is funny that the one man had his customers warned that they must no longer sell his product. You are face to face with a crumbling of the foundation stones of our free America. It is your problem, and it is no laughing matter!

LOOKING BACK

TWENTY-ONE YEARS AGO — JULY 26, 1918

The Virginia Beach Weekly for July 26, 1918, reflected the annual slump in news that usually accompanies the end of July and the first weeks of August.

A long article reported that Coca-Cola would use Virginia Beach as the scene for some of their advertising, along with a cigarette company. A representative of the J. Walter Thompson Advertising Company of New York City ordered a number of pictures for use in the advertising campaign, including views taken at a local beach club, on the walkway, the beach, and one showing a local hot-dog stand. All of the photos included the usual cover girl, either enjoying a bottle of Coca-Cola or puffing the chosen cigarette after a refreshing dip. The advertising program was said to be for foreign ads use.

Times do not change too much. The July 26, 1929, Weekly had a story headed "Princess Anne Corn Gets Two In Trouble," which told of the arrest by local officers of John Powell for possession of a large quantity of whiskey. He was fined $50. Arrested along with

POLIO PRECAUTIONS

RECOMMENDED BY THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

WHEN POLIO IS AROUND, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis recommends these simple precautions: Keep children with their own friends and away from people they have not been with right along. Don't become exhausted through work or hard play. Don't stay too long in cold water or oil ground in wet clothes. And always wash hands before eating. Watch for feverishness, sore throat, headache, upset stomach or sore muscles. They may—or may not—mean polio. Call your doctor and then, if help is needed contact the National Foundation Chapter in your area.

Letters to Editor

Virginia Beach, Virginia
July 27, 1939

To the Editor:

Is it because of the difference in the price of clay rather than cast iron sewerage disposal pipes that the councilmen, health officials, engineers and sewerage disposal supervisors as well as plumbing inspectors at Virginia Beach take a dangerous chance on the breaking of sewerage pipes in the middle of a crowded summer season? Is it this same difference in cost that has limited the foresight of the above mentioned men as to the strength and capacity of the

Powell was Arthur (Fate) Miller, who was said to be the lessee of the shack; but the case was dismissed when Powell took full blame for possession of the liquor.

A party of prominent Princess Anne County farmers left by bus for Blacksburg to attend the Institute of Rural Affairs. Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hill, W. H. James, V. L. Dudley, C. L. Dudley, R. L. Dudley, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Sawyer, J. E. Dixon, J. N. Baster, M. M. James, and Mrs. W. W. Woodhouse.

The Weekly also carried a story of national interest. Headed "Man's Fastest Time Across the Continent," it told of Captain Frank Hawks record breaking flight from coast to coast in 10 hours 10 minutes and 32 seconds—a flight that broke existing air records by more than 5 hours.

spending of the vast sums of money resulting from water meters and building licenses to any nothing of water bills collected during winter months of unused water supply than for the safeguard of the health of the people making up the community which abounds in so much natural attractive living? Could it be that these men put more importance on a highway which today in the middle of a busy season is rarely used but which is accessible to those voters necessary to keep in office the present regime?

On Sunday, July 23, the fire engine for the second time in a week put out the fire of a burning sewerage pump which this time could function no longer. On the following day a second pump is another area caught fire, relying entirely for relief from an antiquated pump. There are only three sewerage pumping stations at Virginia Beach—with two of them disabled, what do we expect in the way of safety from typhoid and other horrible diseases? The odor wafted on the breeze which blew from the 14th Street pumping station can have no doubt in the imagination of the most ignorant guest as to the condition now existing in the sewerage plants at Virginia Beach. A walk along the railroad tracks between 13th and 14th Streets discloses the stench of filthy material flowing across an open area on into Lake Betty where our innocent summer guests are fishing.

This condition is not an unusual one. Complaints of previous legislatures have received indifferent action from our health officer and engineers and other men in the "know" who control the disposition of town funds.

Now the condition is really serious and the "dam has broken," so to speak. What action do our intelligent citizens wish to take? Is

Tips on Freezing Berries

Frozen berries have become very popular lately. Blackberries, raspberries, dewberries, and others can be frozen easily and make a good product. Then these berries can be used the year around for desserts.

As with other fruits, the berries must be picked ripe, but not overripe. They should be at the peak of perfection. Once picked, they should be frozen rapidly to protect and preserve all of their natural goodness. The berries must be picked carefully and also handled gently throughout preparation to prevent bruising.

Wash the berries in cold water and drain thoroughly. Sort out any moldy, rotten or green berries.

There are several ways to pack berries. For dessert use, a syrup pack is best. If you want the berries for pies later, a sugar pack is recommended. Determine which type pack you prefer, based on the way you will use the fruit. For a dry pack mix one cupful of sugar with each six cupful of berries, and package. For the syrup pack, place the berries in the package, and cover with a syrup made by adding four cupfuls of sugar and four cupfuls of water.
Be sure to leave room in the package for the product to expand when frozen.

Heavily waxed cartons, waxed cartons with vapor-proof liners, and locker bags, may be used as containers. Seal the package at once and freeze at zero deg. F. or lower. Store at zero deg. F. until used.

Homemakers' Hints

Thin, transparent plastic bags are ideal to use for rolling crackers and cookies for crumbs. This does away with crumbs flying in every direction, and you can see when they are of the desired consistency. The zipper type of plastic bag is more convenient to use.
However, if you do not have a zipper bag, fold the open end of the other type over and fasten with paper clips.

It's sometimes hard to remove old finish from tiny grooves on the arms and legs of furniture.
You may find this trick helpful—
dip a piece of twine in the paint and varnish remover and see-saw back and forth through the groove or rings.

You can cut an angel cake with a silk or mercerized thread. Bring your thread up under the cake as if you were tying a knot, then cut through the cake. If you use this method you won't mash the cake
when cutting it.

The Navy's Viking research rocket soared to an altitude of 51 miles in its initial flight.

The Great Atlantic &amp; Pacific Tea Company

We will resist all unwarranted price rises with all our might.

We will make every effort to hold our inventories at the lowest point consistent with good service to our customers, because hoarding, whether by whole-salers, retailers or consumers, will cause higher prices.

We will continue to maintain the lowest profit rate generally prevailing in the entire retail industry. Our net profit now is less than one cent on each dollar of sales.

We will continue to strive for more efficient distribution.

We will fight waste of food, or time, or money all along the line so as to narrow the spread between wholesale and retail prices.

We will devote all our energies to giving you the most good food for your money every day of the week.

We will strive always to do what is honest, fair, sincere and in the best

As most of you know, this company and the low cost, low profit policies

We are defending ourselves against a suit brought by the anti-trust

But the greater conflict in which our country is now engaged takes prece-

Today, with our boys fighting in Korea, we believe that all citizens and
